Every Day— 55,000 Babies!

When that alarm clock went off this morning, you had more company in the world. Some 18,000 more people were alive in it—if you call babies people. And tonight when we turn off the light for sleep, there will be on old Earth even more company—about 37,000 more babies of all races and in all conditions of life.

Every day, in poverty and wealth, in joy and misery, in sickness and health, wanted and unwanted, some 55,000 babies survive birth and start on life's journey toward death.

Of every 1,000 born in some countries, perhaps 50 have a chance of attaining ten years of age. In others they may look forward to a life expectancy of 23 and 30 years. In a few the span is about that of the Biblical threescore years and ten.

But, all will be hungry, and each must be somehow clothed, educated, or neglected.

With each day bringing us almost 60,000 survivors of birth, each year adds about 20,000,000 more people to our earth.

Where?

Most of this population increase is in the countries least able to feed and care for it. It is an ironic paradox that the nations with the highest standards of living have fewer children so as to protect their comforts. This does not change things. These new ones will grow up to feel, as millions already feel, that they are residents of earth and have an interest in its bread, its oil, its fibers, and in the products of industry.

India, for example, has one of the most critical population problems. Those who want babies love them, and want to bring them up with what is covered in the phrase, "a chance in life." In far corners of the world, where there is much want, I have seen the eyes of hungry children and of their parents, and I am not using a mere figure of speech when I say I cannot forget them.

India is at work on the first of her big dams. It will be ready in 1953. It will in time mean more water, more power, and the beginnings of a better life for the population. But, it is a race with birth . . . an unending one. Other nations are similarly employed.

But, the wise know that the explosive quality of population pressure can be as great as that of the atomic bomb—or greater. And the effect of it can be more lasting.

Socialism?

Today in rich, powerful America, we have a hot lunch program for our schools. We, the taxpayers, foot the bill for those children whose parents can't afford it. It is a sound, sensible investment. Healthy children have a good chance of being well adults. It is, of course, socialism and it provides an excellent illustration for what sort of national policy has developed. Senator Richard B. Russell, one of the leading candidates for the presidency, is properly proud of the fact it has been he who almost singlehandedly has kept the hot lunch program going. He has not the slightest leaning toward socialism. Our public school system, which is the mudsill of our nation, is pure socialism because all of us pay a tax to support it whether we have children or not. The big dams we build for irrigation are socialism, in that the nation as a whole helps pay for them though they benefit a relative few. The public health service of county, state and nation is socialistic. There are many other examples.

The point is that when a problem comes along a state or several states can't handle, such as great floods, public health, or the problem of soil conservation, then a "socialistic" program is neccessary. There is under cultivation today, for example, about one and a half acres of land for each person. The population increases about 20,000,000 per year. How important is it, then, that we all join in to pay for soil and farming practices which will put more land into use, and which will enable us to obtain more from the acre and a half already in use? And, by the same token, it ought to be plain why it is sensible for us to assist, as we do with our Point Four Agricultural program, other nations to bring in land to feed their own increasing number of mouths. That is sound self-protection, if one wishes to put it narrowly.

30 PWs Killed, 136 Injured Fighting Paratroops on Koje

Breakup Bares Plan To Free 80,000 Reds

By ROBERT TRUCKMAN

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, Tuesday, June 10 (AP) — Tough American paratroopers of the "Angels From Hell" combat team today emptied Compound 76 of its 6,000 Communist prisoners of war in bloody fighting, burned the compound to the ground, and clapped POW leaders in solitary confinement.

The Reds lost an estimated 24 to 30 killed and 136 wounded.

Two Americans were killed, one by a concussion grenade that fell short, and 13 were wounded.

PLOT REVEALED

Inside the wrecked and blood-soaked compound, U. S. intelligence officers found a master plan to liberate all of the 80,000 prisoners of war on this island of hate and death. The Reds had planned to seize the island, about 25 miles long and 15 miles wide off Southeast Korea, and turn Allied guns on their captors.

A 50-foot-long tunnel, lined with plywood walls and containing blowers to air condition it, was found leading toward nearby Compound 77.

The snarling, defiant Reds fought from trenches and buildings with spears and swords forged in their illegal blacksmith shops. They ignored an order to move out of the compound peacefully.

TANK BACKING

A battle-seasoned team of 750 Americans from the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team waded into them with bayonets, concussion grenades, tear gas and fists. They were backed up by tanks.

The same 750 paratroopers were ordered to shift 6,000 Red POWs from Compound 78, across the road, starting at noon (10 p.m. EST).

The paratroopers stormed into 76 shortly after daybreak. Cowboy yells from the Americans and an eerie chant from the Communi-

Allies Taunted By Reds for Truce Recess

MUNSAN, Korea, Tuesday, June 10 (AP)—The Red high command in a letter to Gen. Mark Clark Monday taunted the Allies for declaring a recess in the Korean truce talks now entering their 11th month.

Contents of the letter were broadcast by the Peiping radio early today. It was signed by Gen. Kim Il Sung, Premier of North Korea, and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai.

"If you wish to break up the talks by this tactic, you should do it officially and take full responsibility for it," said the broadcast. "You should know that what you cannot get on the battlefront you cannot get at the conference site."

The United Nations Command declared a three-day recess Saturday after listening repeatedly to Communist harangues charging mistreatment of Red prisoners. The Reds didn't agree to the recess.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior Allied delegate, told the Reds that unless they would offer specific proposals in writing for breaking the deadlock, the U. N. team would not return to Panmunjom until 11 a.m. Wednesday (9 p.m., EST, Tuesday).

Brannan Would Up Supports

By JIM PINSON

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan, speaking here Monday, called for a strengthening of the nation's farm price support structure as a safeguard for an agricultural and industrial economy that is "the bulwark of the free world."

Brannan's address highlighted the three-day convention of the Southeastern Peanut Association attended by 300 peanut shellers and crushers from Georgia, Alabama and Florida, as well as federal and state agricultural experts.

WANTS PLEDGES

The author of the Truman administration's controversial Brannan Farm Plan said the one condition that can best assure further agricultural progress is a fair price situation and a reasonable assurance that prices will stay fair in the future.

Harking back to the agricultural debacle of 1932, he declared: "I don't subscribe to the theory that we can depend on a decreasing level of price support to bring about reduced production of crops of which we have a surplus.

"In 1932," he recalled, "after farm prices had been on the toboggan for three years, farmers harvested the biggest acreage in our agricultural history. They harvested that year 371 million acres —27 million more than last year.

CITES BREAK

"They tried to make up for deflated prices by inflated production—and the result was further price collapse."

Brannan attacked as "just backwards" present legislation, which, he said, provides that farm supports should be reduced in proportion to the size of bumper crops.

"Those who are willing to run the risk and do the hard work of getting big crops," he declared, "should be assured, as a matter

Hearing Due On School Segregation

By LEWIS WOOD

New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, June 9—The Supreme Court promised today to hear arguments on, and presumably decide, the question whether it is constitutionally legal to segregate white and Negro children in elementary public schools.

This action was taken through formal orders issued as the tribunal ended its eight-months term and adjourned until October.

In decisions affecting state universites of Oklahoma and Texas, the Supreme Court already has held that segregation was unlawful as then practiced, and that the two states must furnish equal facilities for both races. Up to now, however, there has been no finding respecting racial separation in elementary and high schools.

Consent to hear this issue was given when the justices agreed to listen to appeals by Negro parents in two cases concerning schools of Clarenden County, S. C., and Topeka, Kan. Arguments will be heard during the term starting Oct. 6; and there are hopes for a

Tests Scheduled For Revenue Directorship

The Civil Service Commission will hold tests between now and June 23 for the position of Director of Internal Revenue, O. E. Myers, Civil Service Regional Director, announced Monday.

Examination blanks can be obtained at the Fifth U. S. Civil Service Regional Office, 5 Forsyth St., N. W.

The examinations are part of the Internal Revenue Bureau reorganization under which the 64 politically appointed collectors across the nation will be replaced by an equal number of directors chosen through the civil service merit system.

The Civil Service Commission reguires that applicants for director have at least six years of "successful, extensive and significant" administrative experience.

Marion H. Allen, Collector of Internal Revenue for Georiga, declined to comment on the possibility of his seeking the directorship. Allen was appointed collector by President Roosevelt 15 years ago.

Ex-Collector Free In Tax Cases

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9—(AP)—James G. Smyth, former collector of internal revenue for the 12th U. S. District, was acquitted tonight by a federal jury of charges of income tax irregularities.

Smyth, 47, who was fired at the height of a recent investigation of widespread irregularities in his office, was accused of backdating his and his wife's 1945 tax returns to avoid paying $404.20 in penalties.

Monkey Lung Breathes For 8 Blue Babies

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CHICAGO, June 9—(AP)—A monkey's lung has done the breathing for eight blue babies connected to an artificial heart, three Canadian scientists reported today.

For as long as four hours, the monkey lung put oxygen into the infants' blood.

The heart machine detoured the blood from each baby's body just before the blood reached the heart. Then it pumped the blood through the little monkey lung, resting in a glass chamber.

Oxygen was blown into the chamber, and the monkey lung purified the baby's blood. The refreshed blood then was pumped back into an artery in the baby's leg. All eight babies, doomed by heart defects, died. But one lived for 15 days after successfully using the heart pump and monkey lung for 10 minutes.

These new experiments auger ultimate success for heart-lung machines that will save many lives. The human heart and lungs can be kept free of blood for new operations inside the living organs.

The heart work is described in an exhibit at the American Medical Association's annual meeting by Drs. W. T. Mustard, A. L. Chute and Anna Sirek of the University of Toronto.

In all eight babies, the great blood vessels to their hearts were connected wrongly so that little of their blood was going through their own lungs. They were blue, weak and in hopeless condition.

The operation that could cure them is to transpose the blood vessels to make the circulation normal. The heart machine was used after successful experiments on dogs.

Compromise Aid Bill Goes To Truman

Senate Kills Bar To Red Trade

By FELIX BELAIR JR.

Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, June 9—The compromise authorization of $6,447,730,750 for the Mutual Security Program was passed by the Senate, 59-11, today and sent to the White House where President Truman has promised it a hostile reception because of its reductions of $1,452,270,000 under his request.

The same vote by which the Senate ratified the conference agreement killed an attempt by Senator Kem (Rep., Mo.), to send the measure back to conference with instructions to restore his ban on aid to any country permitting trade with Soviet Russia or its satellites, including China.

VOICE VOTE

The aid ban was approved by a vote of 40-32 in the Senate last week after Senator Connally (Dem., Texas), and chairman of the foreign relations committee, agreed to "take it to conference" in an effort to end the night session. There was no corresponding provision in the House bill and the ban was killed in the conference committee.

The House, meanwhile, adopted the report of the conference committee and disbanded its conferees. This circumstance enabled Senator George (Dem., Ga.) and presiding officer at the time, to rule "out of order" Senator Kem's motion to send the whole authorization bill back to conference with instructions to insist on restoration of his original amendment.

The resulting parliamentary situation was that the Senate had first to reject the conference report before it could be in order to consider Sen. Kem's recommittal motion. And since this would have meant another week's delay in disposing of the authorization, the majority voted to adopt the conference agreement.

The legislation establishes ceilings on subsequent appropriations for the Mutual Security Program of military, economic and technical assistance to free nations resisting Communist aggression in the fiscal year beginning July 1. For weapons

East Germans Tied to Trees To Stop Flight

KASSEL, Germany, June 9—(AP). Some East Germans, suspected of waiting to flee to the West, are tethered to trees while rail transports are made up, a few terrified border crossers in this area reported tonight.

They said people's police pushed into four border villages last night and forced families to board a 60-car frieght train for transport east.

The villages—Asbach, Sickenberg, Walhausen and Lindenwerra—are on the Hesse-Thuringia demarcation line.

Desperate residents who showed signs of wanting to bolt were tied to trees until an engine shunted cars into place for the trip eastward.

Those who fled to the West said those herded aboard the freight train were given dry rations to last a fortnight. No one was told where he was being sent.

Steel Talks Collapse On Union Shop Issue; Defense Work Pledged

Money Items Also Figure In Deadlock

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS

New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, June 9 — Wage negotiations between the steel industry and the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, broke down tonight and were recessed indefinitely.

The national steel strike which has cut off seven-eighths of the steel capacity of the United States will continue but both sides agreed to turn out essential military material. The details remain to be worked out.

The negotiations broke down over the union shop demand of the steelworkers and certain money items, particularly the Sunday premium pay demand.

24-6-CENT OFFER

The industry said it had offered total employment benefits costing the companies 24.6 cents an hour including 16 cents in wage rates.

Present earnings of the steel workers average about 1.90 an hour including overtime.

30 CENTS RECOMMENDED

The Wage Stabilization Board had recommended total benefits which the industry had estimated at 30 cents an hour when they all would fall due next January.

Union President Philip Murray did not estimate the value of the fringe items offered by the steel companies, nor did he attempt to reconcile the difference between his wage figure of 13.3 and the companies' figure of 16 cents an hour in rates.

The difference probably is explained by a union calculation which averaged the wage increase over a period beginning last Jan. 1, when the old contract expired.

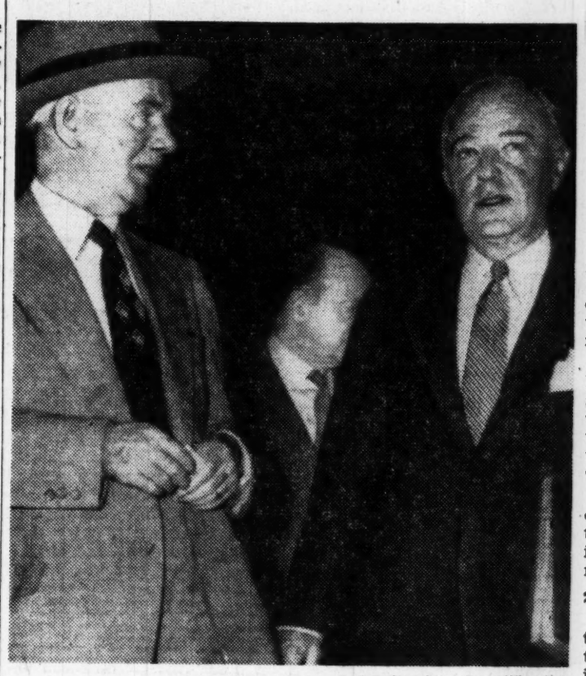

The industry, however, offered back pay only to April 1.

RUN TO 1954

The industry said it was proposed that the new contract run to June 30, 1954, with a proviso that it could be reopened by either the companies or the unions on June 30, 1953, on the subject of a general adjustment of wage rates.

The industry statement also said

Ike Quoted Favoring Military Spending Cut

By LEO EGAN

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

NEW YORK, June 9—General Eisenhower was quoted today by Rep. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as favoring a reduction of military expenditures to bring the federal budget into balance. Such a stand would place the general, active candidate for Republican presidential nomination, in direct conflict with the Department of Defense and President Truman.

Representative Herter, chairman of the Massachusetts Eisenhower - for - President Committee and a potential Republican candidate for governor of Massachusets said the general had given his views on military spending at a meeting today with Massachusetts delegates and alternates to the Republican national convention.

TRADE INCREASE

The general further told the delegates, according to Herter, that he favored an increase in East-West trade—that is, commerce between the Democratic nations of the world and those under Communist domination—so long as it did not result in an increase in the military potential of Soviet Russia or its satellites.

As a rough rule, Herter explained, commodities that would be deliverable to countries behind the Iron Curtain under General Eisenhower's program would be consumer goods rather than machine tools or similar items. Such trade would, in the general's view, help maintain contacts between the two spheres, Herter added.

SAFER TO BE SURE

With respect to cutting military expenditures, Herter quoted Eisenhower as saying in substance that it was safer to be sure of American solvency by adjusting mili-

Nick Eason Is Bound to County Court

L. B. (Nick) Eason, assistant to Fulton Safety Commissioner G. Neal Ellis, Monday waived preliminary hearing in City Traffic Court and was ordered held under bond for Fulton Criminal Court on charges of drunk driving and drunk on the highway.

Asst. City Atty. John E. Feagin explained to the court that he and defense attorneys W. Paul Carpenter and Wesley Asinof agreed to waive commitment hearing on both charges. Associate Judge James Webb assessed $100 bond on each charge.

The only controversy arose when city officers insisted upon fingerprinting Eason before turning him over to Fulton Sheriff A. B. (Bud) Foster. Carpenter said he thought an ordinance requiring persons to be fingerprinted before conviction in Criminal Court was unconstitutional and that carrying it out would serve only to embarrass Eason.

However, Carpenter agreed to the fingerprinting "to prevent any further trouble."

After the hearing was waived, Carpenter and Asinof called a list of witnesses to inform them that the case would be tried at a later

90's Expected Unless Shower Cools Things Off

The only thing that's likely to keep the mercury down out of the 90's Tuesday is an afternoon thundershower. And the weatherman says there's an even chance we'll get one.

Such a shower put a damper on a vaulting mercury Monday, shuttling temperatures down 10 degrees during the afternoon. The .13 of an inch of rainfall kept the day's high reading at 89.

Both Tuesday and Wednesday are expected to be mostly fair and rather hot. Extremes predicted for both days were 72 and 93. Monday's extremes were 73 and 89.

Russell Forces Select Agricultural Advisers

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS

Constitution Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON, June 9—Formation of a strong Russell-for-president agricultural advisory committee, composed of farm leaders from agricultural states throughout the country, was announced here today by Senator Johnson (Dem., Col.) national chairman of the Russell campaign committee.

H. L. Wingate of Pelham, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau, was named one of the Southern members of the 18-man committee.

Senator Russell, in the meantime, was in New Jersey today meeting with Democratic delegates there. He made a similar trip to New England over the weekend.

Senator Johnson said the 18 men forming the nucleus of the Russell agricultural advisory group represent top leadership in soil conservation, rural electrification, farm co-operatives and other activities affecting agriculture. Other members will be added as the committee's organization is perfected.

"Enlistment of these gentlemen in the Russell campaign grows out of their recognition of the great contribution Senator Russell has made to the welfare of agriculture," Senator Johnson said. "It is indicative of the support his campaign is attracting in every

MacArthur Keynoter Called Plot for Taft

Ike Backer Seeks Speaker Who Has Remained Neutral

By W. H. LAWRENCE

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

CHICAGO, June 9—Protesting against the proposed selection of General MacArthur as keynoter for the Republican national convention, J. Russell Sprague of New York charged today that backers of Senator Taft of Ohio were using "Texas tactics" to rig the GOP convention machinery in favor of the Ohioan's nomination.

Supporters of Senator Taft poopoohed Sprague's objections and made it clear that MacArthur will be chosen by a majority of the committee on arrangements at tomorrow's meeting unless there is a last-minute shift in strategy.

MIGHT HURT GOP

One influential member of the Republican committee, who still is not committed to support either Taft or General Eisenhower, expressed belief that Taft forces were making a mistake in not picking an impartial keynoter whose speech would be satisfactory to any and all presidential contenders. Requesting that he not be quoted by name, this party leader said it was his fear that such tactics might hurt the party's chances in the November election.

"I don't want any nonsense from either side," he said. "I think after 20 years that it is time that we won."

Sprague, who is national committeeman from New York and a leading Eisenhower supporter, said that the pro-Eisenhower forces did not have a candidate for keynoter, and would not offer objection to selection of any person who has kept publicly neutral in the presidential fight. He appealed to the "Taft-controlled national committee" to arrange a "free and open convention" so that the party nominee, whoever he may be, will have the best chance of victory in November.

SAME AS TEXAS

"If the Taft forces insist upon misusing their power to enforce selection of General MacArthur as keynoter, it will be the same thing that happened in Texas, transferred to the national committee level," Sprague declared.

Eisenhower forces have charged that "old guard" leaders favorable to Taft "stole" the regular Texas delegation by unseating a majority of pro-Eisenhower delegates who had been selected at precinct and county convention meetings.

British Left Poises New Policy Attack

By RAYMOND DANIELL

LONDON, June 9—Parliament resumes its session tomorrow after its Whitsun holiday with bipartisan foreign policy facing a further challenge from the left and the government confronted with growing opposition criticism of American policy in Korea.

The Labor Party's statement of policy has been agreed upon and now is in the hands of the printer. It probably will be made public this week. This statement, prepared for the annual party conference next October, indorses the statement of the party's executive committee which in effect reversed the policy of the recent Attlee government on Germany's participation in western defense. The executive committee's statement demanded another attempt to reach agreement with the Soviet and what amounted to a referendum in Western Germany before that country's admission to the European defense community.

Labor party spokesmen attempted to justify this seeming reversal of policies pursued by Clement Attlee and Herbert Morrison while they were in office on the ground that the conditions Attlee laid down—that German rearmanent must be preceded by rearmament of the western powers and consent of the German people—had not been met.

Nevertheless as the Daily Telegraph remarked this morning, the effect of adoption by the party as a whole of the executive committee statement would be "to subordinate the nominal leaders of the opposition to the pressure of the Bevanites and to stress the possible discontinuity of British foreign policy."

Skip Oil Case, Court Asked By Mossadegh

By MICHAEL L. HOFFMAN

New York Times News Service Special to The Atlanta Constitution

THE HAGUE, June 9—Issues involved in oil nationalization in Iran to "too sacred and too vital" to be exposed "even to the theoretical risk of an international decision," Premier Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran told the International court of justice today.

Opening Iran's case against Britain, which is briefly that the court has no jurisdiction in the matter, Mossadegh sought to show that wrongs suffered by his country at the hands of the oil company and the British generally have cut so deep that to adjudicate Iran's efforts to assert her freedom by ordinary rules of international law would be both morally wrong and practically disastrous.

Referring to events immediately preceding nationalization he said the company's offer of a new arrangement more favorable to Iran made in 1949 was "too little and too late." It was not merely a financial question but the fact that the company had subjected Iranians to "humilitation" and had deprived them of access to technical training, he stated.

Benjamin Fedchenkoff is named in the controversy as archbishop of the archdiocese of North America and the Aleutian Islands of the Russian Orthodox Greek Catholic Church.

Pressure Groups Test German Arms Treaty

By DREW MIDDLETON

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

BONN, Germany, June 9—The treaty system which will rearm a sovereign Germany within the framework of the Atlantic alliance faces its first legal challenge tomorrow in a political atmosphere which daily becomes more turbulent.

The calm that followed signature of the Bonn convention and the European defense community treaty has been dissipated. Pressure groups, ranging from veterans' organizations demanding release of all war crimes prisoners as the price of ratification, to pacifists seeking the postponement of all measures toward rearmament for at least a year are hard at work.

There also is a steady build-up of forces seeking to induce Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, in the words of his minister for all-German affairs, Jacob Kaiser, "to demonstrate the government's willingness to take the responsibility for the reunification of Germany." Adenauer at the moment sees no need for further approaches on unity. But political observers are convinced that he must make some or face another rebellion in the ranks of the government coalition.

The federal constitutional court will meet at Karlsruhe tomorrow to consider a request by the Social Democratic Party, leading opposition group, for a ruling on constitutionality of rearmament and conscription.

At tomorrow's session the court will decide only whether the Socialists' request is admissable. If it is found to be admissable and after hearing the case the court finds that rearmament requires an amendment to the constitution then the whole government program for ratification of the treaty system is seriously endangered.

Berlin Radio Block Cut as Reds Soften

By WALTER SULLIVAN

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

BERLIN, June 9—The British today ordered an end to their blockade of the Rundfunkhaus, radio building in West Berlin. Several score Soviet soldiers and East Germans had been surrounded by British troops and barbed wire since last Tuesday.

This decision was announced after Soviet soldiers today allowed British troops to erect British sector signposts along the disputed corridor to Eiskeller. A few days ago, the British said, one of their officers who tried to pass through the corridor was detained for an hour and then sent back into Berlin.

Eiskeller is one of several enclaves or "islands" of Berlin territory beyond the city limits. Disputes that arose concerning these enclaves appeared generally to have been resolved.

SOVIET STOPPAGE

Still an issue was Soviet stoppage of British and American patrols on the superhighway linking Berlin with the West. Some Allied officials were privately disappointed that this problem could not have been included in a "package" solution.

Apparently, however, the British commandant indicated to the Soviet representative last Tuesday that action against the Rundfunkhaus was linked solely with Soviet and East German actions against West Berlin enclaves. The conversation took place when a representative of the Soviet Control Commission called on the British commandant, Maj. Gen. C. F. C. Coleman, to protest the British blockade of the radio building.

Since residents of these enclaves are now being allowed to visit the city, the British felt they would be accused of bad faith if they continued their action against the radio station.

As the British spokesman put it, success of the operation against Rundfunkhaus was "limited" but its objective was likewise "limited."

GUARDS TO STAY

Members of the Royal Scots regiment were expected to remove the barbed wire entanglements around the radio station during the night. Nevertheless guards will be maintained on the building and after Thursday Germans seeking to enter will have to show a pass issued by West Berlin authorities.

This is in retaliation for the requirement that residents of enclaves belonging to the British sector carry special passes to cross the few hundred yards of the East German republic to the city itself.

Eiskeller is an exception, since the British today established their claim to the corridor linking the suburb with the city. They erected signs along the corridor which is a lane only a few yards wide and several hundred yards long.

Fifth Set of Twins No Novelty to Parents

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., June 9—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alquette were not at all surprised when twins were born to them last week. The babies—a boy and a girls—were their fifth set of twins in 15 years of married life.

The Alquettes have had 16 children. Besides the five sets of twins, they have four other children. Two others are dead.

The 35-year-old mother took the event calmly. "It's getting to be too common to be excited about," she declared. "I had been expecting twins and am glad it's over with."

King Talal, son of the assassinated Abdullah, has been under treatment for a nervous disorder at a clinic on Lake Geneva.

Southern Federal presents GROWING with ATLANTA
We Salute KRAFT FOODS COMPANY
Last week, in Decatur, KRAFT FOODS COMPANY completed a huge new manufacturing and distribution plant—largest company enterprise in the Southeast. This new operation "represents Kraft's trust in the great dairying, manufacturing and sales potential of this section of the nation," according to Mr. E. P. Moore, Southeastern division general manager of Kraft and vice-president in Atlanta. "Raw materials for production of cheese and cheese products make Kraft one of the Southern farmers' greatest consumers," he added. Atlanta may well be proud of the confidence thus expressed in this area's future by such nationally famous organizations as KRAFT.

Chiang Aides Reported As 'Atomic Spies'

Morse Demands Quick Inquiry

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, June 9—Senator Morse asserted today that documents supplied privately to him indicated that in the 1940s Chinese Nationalist air force officers here had been ordered to spy on United States atomic secrets and on "military targets" in this country.

Morse, an Oregon Republican, did not necessarily vouch for these accusations.

Rather, in a Senate speech, he appeared as the advocate of quick action on a resolution in which he and Senator McMahon (Dem., Conn.) nearly a year ago had demanded a Senate investigation of the operations in the United States of a so-called pro-Chiang "China lobby."

That proposal, which still is pending in the Senate foreign relations committee, would call for a survey of the workings here of any and all foreign lobbies.

Asserting in substance that the whole question of Chinese Nationalist activities in the United States and of Chinese Nationalist military capabilities was wholly obscure, Morse proposed the following:

1. An investigation at once by the State department into the truthfulness of two Chinese Nationalist officers here to determine whether they should be vindicated or ousted from the United States.

2. An inquiry by the Senate armed services committee to establish "once and for all" just how many battleworthy troops are now available on the island of Formosa to the Chinese Nationalist leader, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Morse's specific request of the State Department was that it find out whether Chen Chih-Mai and Peter T. K. Pee of the Chinese Nationalist embassy here had or had not been the authors of a series of 1949 cables to Chiang Kai-shek.

These cables, on their face, were not concerned with espionage but detailed the effort of what appeared to be a lobby to influence American opinion toward more aid for Chiang.

IN TAX TANGLE—WASHINGTON, June 9—William G. Lias of Wheeling, W. Va. is here to defend himself in a case wherein the government contends he and his family owe some $2,850,000 in taxes, penalties and interest on 1942-48 income. Last week the Justice department turned down an offer by Lias to settle out of court for $1,600,000.

Editor Swears He Fought in Spain Without Red Orders

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—John Gates, imprisoned editor of the Daily Worker, swore today he fought in the Spanish Civil War voluntarily and not upon orders from the Communist party.

He was the first witness called by the party to dispute a government charge that American Reds take their orders from Moscow. He testified before the Subversives Activities Control Board.

If the government's contention can be proved, the party can be required to register under the 1950 Internal Security Act as an agent of the Soviet Union and be compelled to reveal members' names and financial records.

Members then would be forbidden passports and denied jobs in the government or in defense plants. The government took 13 months to present its side of the case. Now it's the party's turn.

Vito Marcantonio, attorney for the party and a former New York City congressman, asked Gates whether the party, as the government claims, sent him to Spain during the 1936-39 civil war to receive "training and instruction in the principles, policies, tactics and strategy of the world Communist movement."

"No," said Gates. "I was not sent to Spain by the Communist party. I went entirely of my own free will and volition." However, he added the party fully approved his going.

Gates is serving a five-year term in the Atlanta Federal Prison. With 10 other top Communist party officials, he was convicted in 1949 of conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

Crippled Boats Brought to Port

MIAMI, Fla., June 9—(AP)—The Coast Guard escorted three shrimp boats into Key West today after two of them ran out of gas and were taken in tow by the third.

Coast Guard air-sea rescue headquarters said the Admiral Phillips radioed for assistance yesterday about 80 miles southwest of Key West.

The Admiral Phillips reported she was towing the Little Bill and the Beulah and was running low on gas herself.

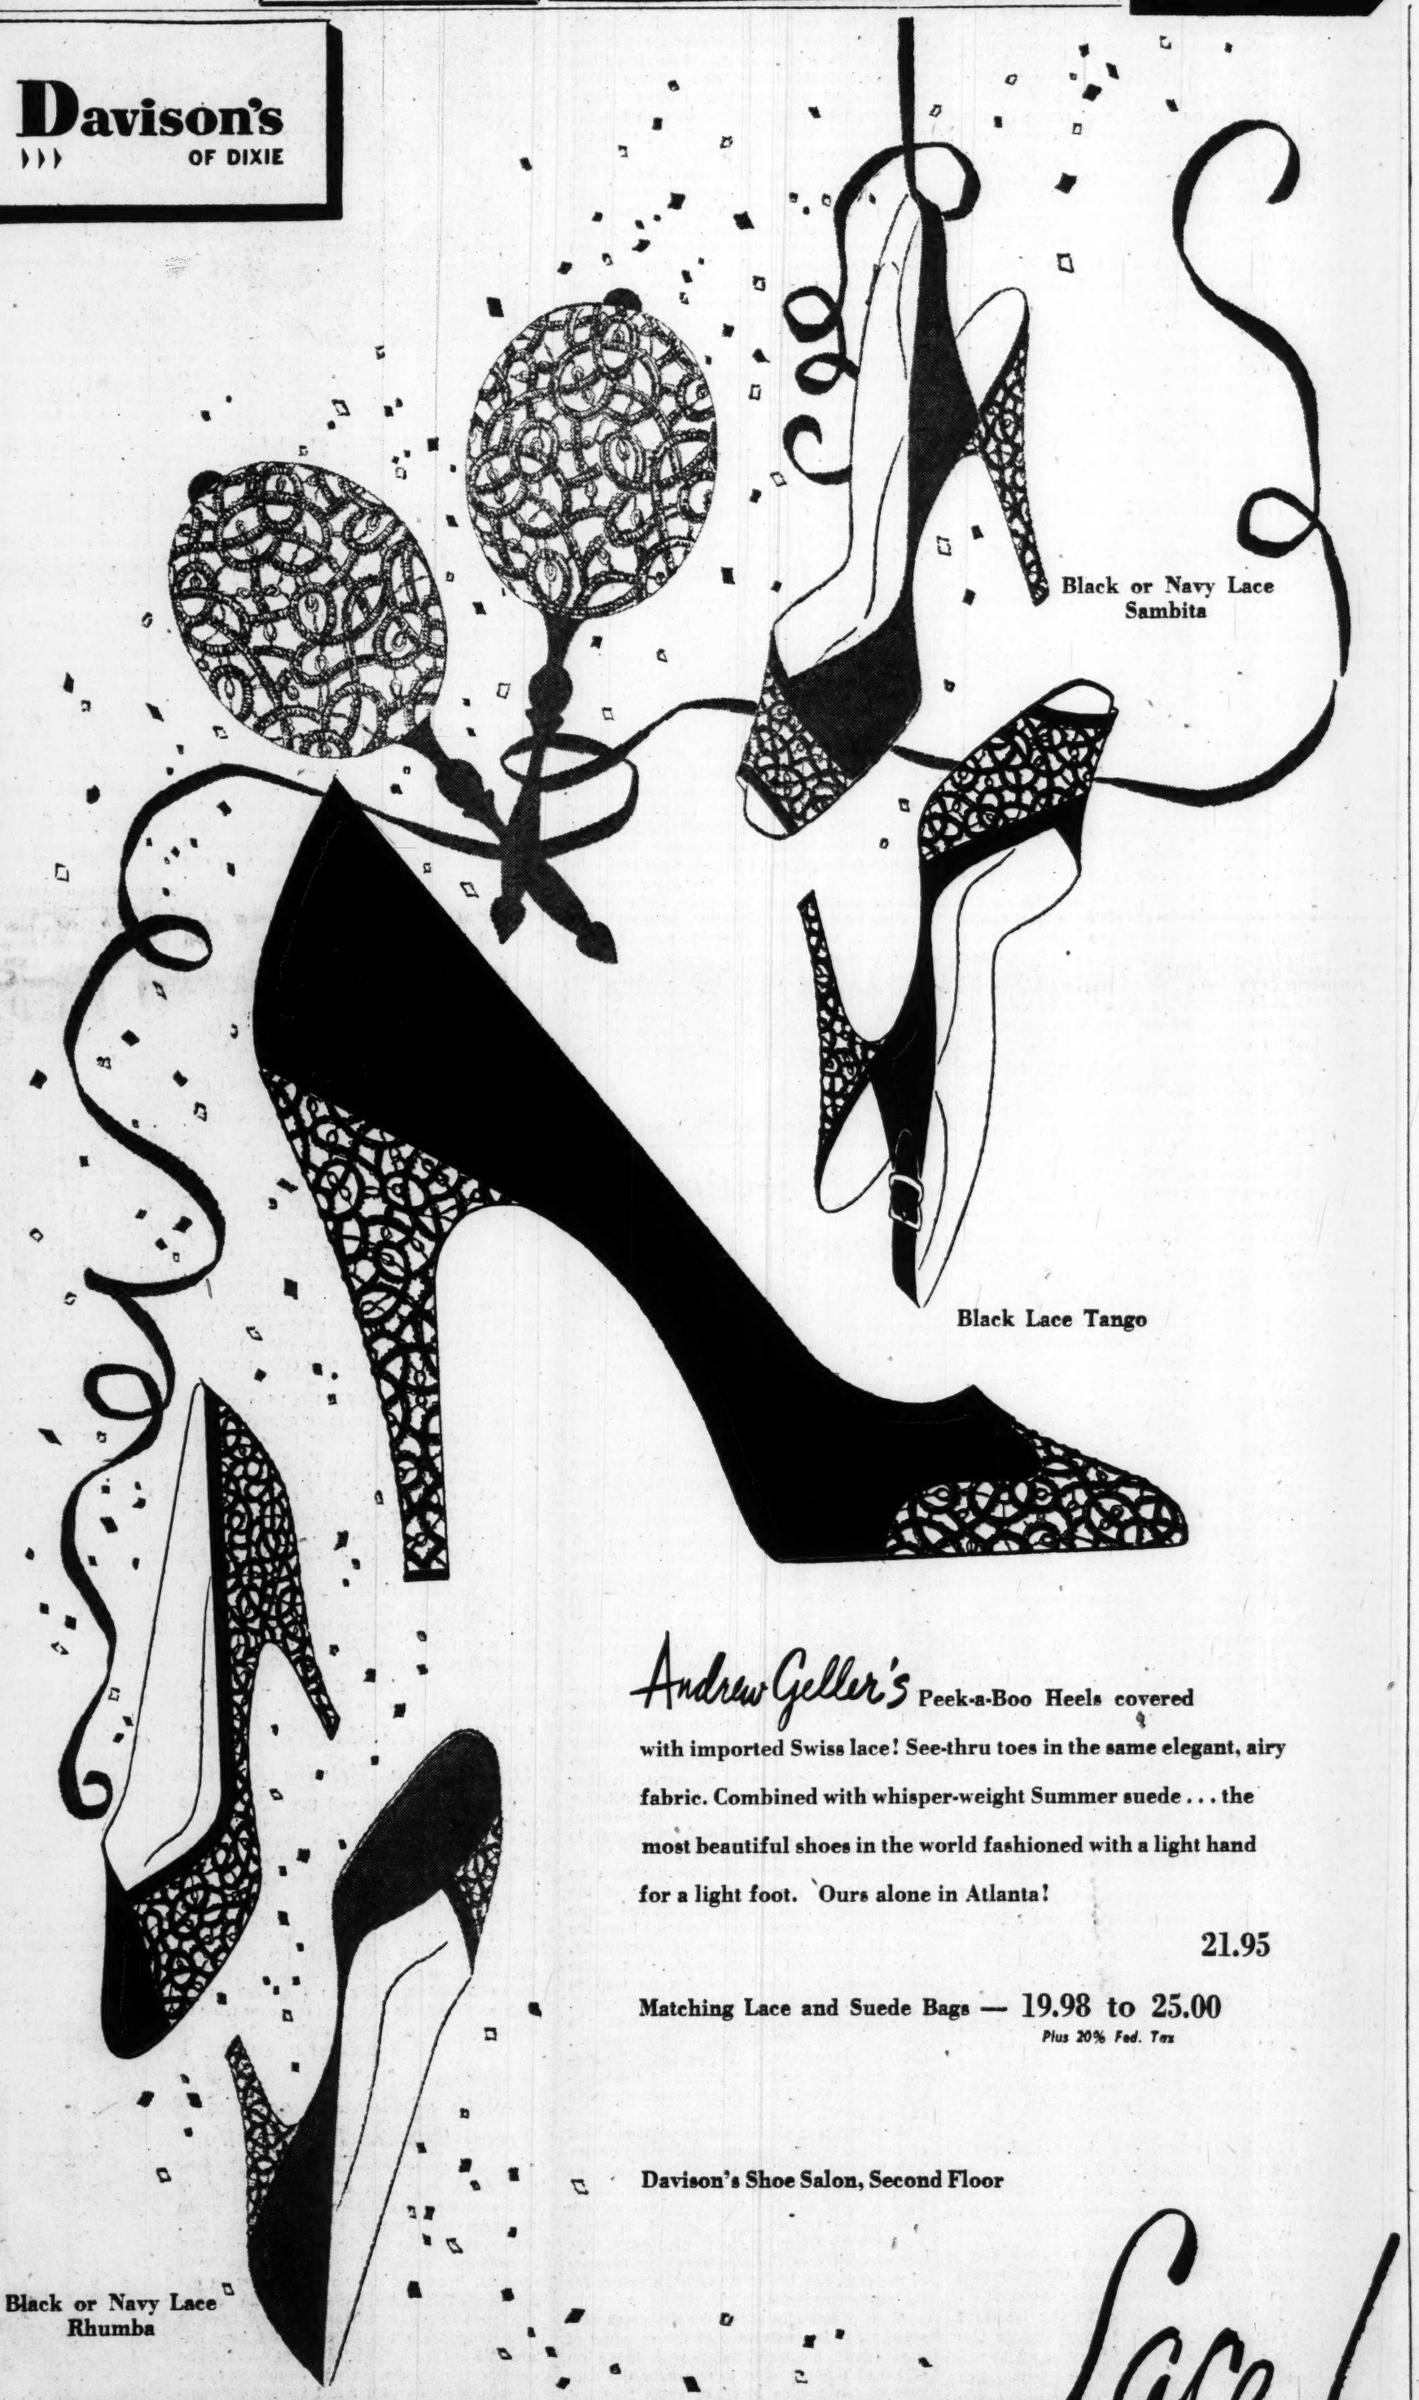

The cutter Ariadne brought the three boats to port.

Flying Trip

A lady in a Georgia town 100 miles away was reading the paper over her breakfast coffee the other morning. Davison's Supremacy Sale ad on "Sample Shoes" caught her eye. She flew into her clothes, flew to the airport, hopped a plane and landed at Davison's just after the store opened.* This small incident points up three things:

1. Women may change their minds often but they make them up fast!
2. Southern women can still brag about their small feet—even Cinderella couldn't trump a Sample size 4-B!
3. Folks will walk-a-mile or fly-a-hundred to beat the gun to a Davison's Supremacy Sale.

*P.S. She bought 6 pairs. P.P.S. She saved enough to more than pay for her roundtrip plane ticket.

Duel Personality

It looks mean as a poignard. But it won't cut a thing but letters. It's also a handsome paper-weight and — best of all—it lights your cigarette at the flick of a finger. It's "The Florentine" dagger lighter by Ascot and so authentically Renaissance in design that one of the Medicis might have carried it hidden in the folds of his black coat. Comes two ways: with a sheath in three colors or in a replica of a famous old dueling case. Either way is a sure way to make Pappy happy on Father's Day, June 15. $19.95 buys it in the Smoke Shop, on Davison's Street Floor.

Honeymooners: note

If you have stars in your eyes, a honeymoon on your mind but not-much-time-and-money-honey, see Miss Cooper. She runs the American Express Travel Bureau on Davison's Mezzanine and she's been known to flag trains and ground planes for romance. Take the dreamy boy and girl who came in last Thursday. They were to be married the very next day and could only take a week-end honeymoon "somewhere close by, that doesn't cost much." Miss Cooper picked a wonderful resort hotel in the mountains, got the tickets, wired for the room—even notified the manager so they'd get the traditional shower of rice a la Mendelssohn. They went away happily, hand in hand convinced that love does laugh at timetables and budgets when Davison's Travel Bureau takes over.

Noble Neck-pieces

If he's a young Pappy who goes for Petty Girl art on his ties, or trick jobs that light up, he may not appreciate the quiet, distinguished beauty of a Brooke Cadwallader tie. But if he likes to look successful; if he would enjoy being in the company of the world's best-dressed men, then deck the space below his Adam's apple with a Cadwallader tie. The price is $5 to $10 per tie, which is mighty little for a noble neck-piece designed and signed by one of the top designers of our time. In the Men's Store, Street Floor.

Steel Settlement Is Still Possible

Breakdown of the steel negotiations is to be deplored, but settlement yet is indicated. From all indications Phil Murray has managed to maneuver steel into a position in which he holds definite advantages.

The real issue is the union shop. We have never seen it as right and proper. It requires the company to collect the union dues, thus relieving the union of worrying with uninterested members. It also forces a man to pay dues whether he wants to or not, and in a very real sense is interference by the company so agreeing in a man's personal affairs. We don't think that properly fits into contracts. But it exists.

Steel has granted the union shop in its coal mines, which once were the workings called "captive mines" by that maker of phrases, John L. Lewis. The union also insists that steel has granted union shop contracts in its shipping, construction, and railroad trades. If that be so, then steel is in a position which steadily will grow more and more untenable. A settlement is indicated because of this pertinent fact.

If things do not go as indicated, management and unions have agreed they will turn out adequate steel to meet defense needs. We like that. But this decision, too, would indicate settlement is likely. If a few men make steel, the economics of maintaining the plants and furnaces would bring full production into play. A long strike will affect scores of related industries.

Statesmanship on both sides is needed.

Reports to date do not indicate how much or how little there has been.

Bevan Challenges Churchill Government

There always are things about which one may wring one's hands and gnash the teeth and make moaning sounds. The trick is, apparently, to try and roll with the punches, an asset necessary to a prizefighter who does not wish to have his head knocked off, to employ one of the ring's aesthetic judgments.

For example, the British Parliament meets today and Aneurin Bevan, no Communist but a Marxian Socialist, will resume his belligerent throwing of punches at the Conservative government headed by Winston Churchill. That government has been losing strength. The margin of victory in the election was small and the Tories have been forced to tread softly in replacing Socialist doctrine with the more conservative policies.

At the same time the government ran into a further tightening of the economic situation. The result was that those who had voted against the Socialists and thrown them out of office did not receive the "change" they had hoped for. Things really seemed not to go along about the same as before, but to become even worse.

Now there is worry for the United States and the West in general. Mr. Bevan is gaining more strength. He does not agree with the rearmament policy. If he should attain control he would without doubt withdraw, or insist on a great watering down of British participation. This would be disastrous, coming at a time when the other nations of NATO, specifically France, are showing greater firmness.

Mr. Bevan's argument is demagogic, and as is the case in all demagogic utterances, has an appealing logic. He would spend the money on more food and let armament go, since he does not believe Russia will go to war. It is what a lot of people believe, and what even more devoutly wish to believe. Mr. Bevan is steadily gaining strength from Labor's rank and file and there is little doubt but what the current session of Parliament will see the government severely tested.

Segregation Case Will Test the South

The South, of course, will greet the news the Supreme Court of the land will rule on segregation in the public schools with mixed emotions, most of them furiously resistant.

The court will hear the appeal which says that segregation "is a stigmatizing badge of inferiority," which has a bad effect on their children.

It will be October before the court hears arguments, and well after the first of the year before there is a ruling. Hence, there is time for examination.

Several Southern states have legislation which will enable them to withdraw state appropriations from state-supported schools, and thus paralyze their operation, should the court rule out segregation.

The Supreme Court has already ruled that separate but equal facilities are legal, but the fact remains they are equal hardly anywhere. It is believed, although predictions are dangerous, that the court will leave the public schools to the states.

There is no prestige at stake in the lower grades. High schools may escape. But the court has already opened many state universities to Negroes because there is not, and can't be, within our time, separate but equal universities. It is a somewhat surprising fact that there are but five of the 48 states which do not have some Negroes in their state universities.

All of this is but a product of our time, and the generations to come will look upon it as a part of our social development as a nation. Whatever happens, we must work it out within the framework and meaning of our country.

When Given the Facts, The People Will Act

The Georgia Department of Revenue reports that its collections during the first 11 months of the 1952 fiscal year were $73,779,000 more than in the same period in 1951. The reason is that the sales tax is bringing in the revenue needed for adequate functions of state government for the first time in history.

The following statement by William M. Lester, deputy commissioner of revenue, is significant:

"According to reports from various sections of the state," he says, "the sales tax was not an issue in any of the legislative races in the recent primary. We have accordingly made history in our state, as the sales tax has been an issue in most of the states imposing the tax following enactment of the law."

It is interesting also that Mr. Lester realizes this did not just happen, as he points out:

"The newspapers and radio stations of the state with the chambers of commerce and other organizations are due credit for the almost unanimous acceptance of the tax by the people. Through liberal space given by the newspapers, time on the radio station and forum programs arranged by the chambers of commerce and other organizations, everyone became acquainted with the advantages of the tax and the program of service which it provided. Through this assistance our state now faces a new future of unlimited opportunities."

Acceptance of the sales tax does not mean it is popular. It has been tolerated because the people were given enough information to realize it was the only hope of financing the state services they wanted. Newspapers co-operated because they realized the same thing. Through it all, men of divers interests co-operated for the good of the state.

This was an excellent example of democracy in action. It demonstrated the service which a free press renders in a democratic society. Newspapers must never lose the right to point out the good nor to criticize the bad. Efforts to hamstring the press in criticism of public officials and governmental activities are a threat to the liberties of each and every citizen.

Training Young Leaders Is a Worthy Objective

Five hundred outstanding boys and girls from all over Georgia are attending schools for citizenship this week at Georgia Tech and Georgia Military Academy. Boys' and Girls' State, sponsored by the Georgia Department of the American Legion, gives these young people an opportunity not only to engage in friendly competition with others their own age but to become acquainted with processes of government on all levels.

In both cases, the boys and girls have the opportunity of training under some of the state's finest leaders in governmental activities—local, state and national. They conduct their own courts, run their own legislative branches, elect their own officials and learn rules of parliamentary procedure.

It is a fine activity in the training of young leaders. We congratulate the boys and girls who were selected to attend and the Legion for its sponsorship of such a worthwhile opportunity for youth. We welcome them to the capital city.

And may the candidates translate their lofty ideals into action, not only during this week, but in their home communities in the years to come.

Rhee Can Defeat U. S. Objectives

WASHINGTON—From reports coming from South Korea, it appears that the United States and the United Nations not only have the problem of fighting the Communists in Korea and of handling the Communist prisoners at Koje Island—but also of being attacked and defied by South Korean President Syngman Rhee.

It is reported that President Rhee has resorted to dictatorial tactics and defied not only the National Assembly of South Korea but also the United Nations and the United States authorities in South Korea. President Rhee declared martial law on May 24 and four days later the South Korean National Assembly voted, 96-3, to lift it. But President Rhee defied the legislative action of the National Assembly.

At this point the United Nations Commission for the Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea requested that martial law be lifted. It is reported that President Rhee replied that this was none of the UN's business and accused two United States agencies, which had concurred with the UN commission's views, of interfering with the internal affairs of South Korea.

It is further reported that, as if this wasn't enough defiance from a man who had received such tremendous aid from the United States and the United Nations, President Rhee threatened to oust all UN agencies from South Korea.

Already millions of Americans are asking, "Why are we in Korea?" and "Why do we stay in Korea?" These are hard questions to answer in the face of President Rhee's present attitude.

The blunt fact is that President Rhee is considered in the Far East to be the protege of the United States. He holds the position of president of South Korea only with the backing of the United States. Is he now biting the hand that has been feeding him? Can he say to us that this matter is none of our business when the United States has suffered more than 100,000 casualties in defending his South Korea and in making it possible for him to continue as president of South Korea?

How can our forces fight the Communists at the battlefront when civil chaos and terror exist back of the lines?

How long must we be soft in our handling of the situation in Korea, whether it be in the farcical antics of the Communists in the truce negotiations, whether it be the reported coddling and appeasing of Communists war prisoners at Koje, or whether it be the defiance of President Rhee?

President Rhee is in no position to dictate terms to the United States. If the United States and the United Nations are to tolerate defiance that hampers their efforts in the defense of Korea, then how can the people of this country and the people of other countires have complete faith in the purpose of the United States and the United Nations in the costly effort in Korea?

If the reports are true that President Rhee is guilty of dictatorial acts and complete disregard of democratic principles of a free republic, and if the United States tolerates this much longer, then who can answer the question of what are we fighting for in Korea?

Gladstone Williams

GOP Sentiment Equally Divided

WASHINGTON—Now that the last of the state primaries is over, it is possible to make a clearer appraisal of the popularity standing with the voters of the two leading rivals for the Republican presidential nomination—Sen. Robert A. Taft and General of the Army Dwight Eisenhower. South Dakota was the final testing ground.

While the results there were a bit inconclusive, they do seem to follow the collective pattern of the various primary battles where the two leading GOP contenders have been pitted against each other. Taft won by such a narrow margin in South Dakota that about the only thing that can be said of it is it gave him a moral victory, plus the 14 delegates involved.

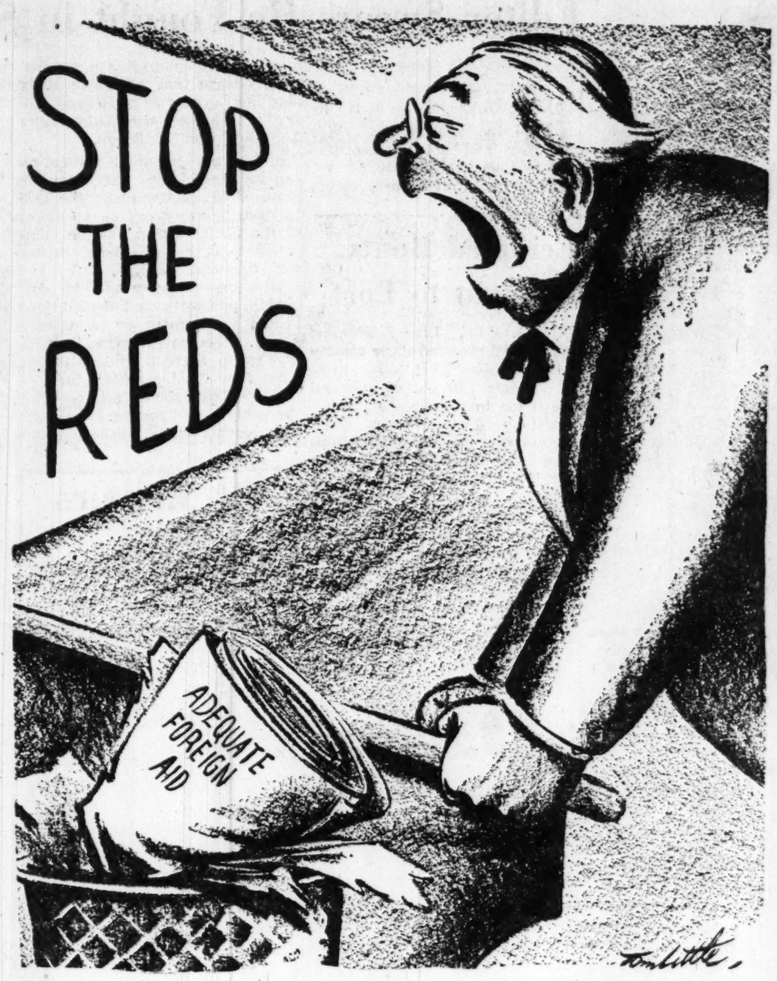

The one obvious conclusion to be drawn from the total primary results is that sentiment in the party is pretty closely divided between the two front runners. That seems to be borne out further in the fact that as they go down the home stretch only a few weeks before the national convention at Chicago, they both appear to be in a neck-and-neck finish.

Certainly the primaries have shown no overwhelming sentiment for either of the two principals. If anything, Taft has come out on top. He took a few beatings from the general in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, but these were offset by other victories he won in Wisconsin, Nebraska, Illinois, West Virginia, Ohio and, more recently, South Dakota. In some of the states lost to Eisenhower, notably Pennsylvania, Oregon and New Jersey, his name was not entered in the primary or he asked that no campaign be made in his behalf.

It is perhaps significant to point out that of the total vote cast in all the primaries Taft received more than 2,680,000 votes as against some 2,070,000 for Eisenhower. Those figures tend to dispute the claims of the Eisenhower managers, supported in large measure by the public sentiment polls, that the general was the overwhelming favorite of the rank and file of Republican voters for the party nomination.

With practically all of the delegates now selected, it is apparent that the outcome of the contest between them will hinge on which of them is able to win over the support of the sizable block of votes now put down as undecided. The Associated Press tabulation lists some 200 delegates in this category. What these delegates do will be the decisive factor. It is in their power to swing the nomination to either Taft or Eisenhower—or force a compromise on some other man.

Pulse of the Public

Augustan Disagrees With Taft Critic; Believes Anyone Can 'Second Guess'

Augusta—I was greatly shocked by an article under your Pulse of the Public heading on June 5. After reading it I am convinced that its author, Armand May, is unusually shortsighted and confines his facts on politics to half truths. To quote Ben Franklin, "the difference between the truth and half truth is comparable to the difference between a flash of lightning and a firefly."

Before blaming anyone for misjudgments on policy before World War II, let's take into consideration that they may be classed as misjudgments only in comparison with our way of thinking today. Anyone can "second guess."

Before Pearl Harbor this country as a whole was still thinking along isolationist lines.

It is true that Taft fought the Truman plans for sending billions of the taxpayers' dollars on foreign military missions, but he did not fight to completely defeat these plans but merely to moderate them, which was done.

Mr. May has also twisted meanings and added half truths by stating, in so many words, that Taft opposed a European army. At the time that issue was before Congress and the people it was known that no less than 60 per cent of Russia's financial effort was devoted to building up a European army, estimated then at about 75 small divisions. We were talking about supplying 10-15 divisions and the rest of the free nations supplying the other pitiful few, at our expense. What Taft was trying to point out was that the other nations, hard pressed as they were, must take on the burden of supplying most of the ground forces while we concentrated our efforts on air superiority.

Our Far Eastern policy has been messed up ever since the Truman administration wrote off China and the Far East with Secretary Acheson's "White Paper." If that wasn't isolationism, what is? It was Truman who changed his mind about the Far East, not Taft, by committing troops there in 1950, and rightly so, but, what a way to fight a war and it is certainly a war, not a police action.

One shudders to think what would have happened to this country if it were not for Robert A. Taft, the hard-hitting opposition leader who has been fighting against a corrupt and poorly run administration.

ALFRED F. WOLFE.

'Wailing, Gnashing of Teeth' On Election Wearies Atlantan

Atlanta—How long will the "wailing and gnashing of teeth" go on before the discontents realize that we have re-elected Congressman Davis back to Congress?

It seems to me that all the effort should have been spent before and not after the election.

Let us now as good American sports close the issue and be happy that the Fifth District is ably represented by a solid Georgian. Judge Davis' standing in Congress is as high as the ideals and the good character of the people he well represents.

Growth of Bureaucracy Called Trend Toward Dictatorship

Broken Arrow, Okla.—It is quite probable that democracy has been preached more and practiced less during the past 19 years than for 1,900 years prior thereto. Mr. Roosevelt, during his first campaign for the presidency, criticized, with justification I thought, President Hoover for increasing the number of bureaus from about 25 to approximately 50. But before he had been in office one term the bureaus had been increased to 96, I believe, and that was not the end by any means, as you doubtless know.

This is an obvious trend toward dictatorship, and one of the really big problems of our nation today is—how much further will the dictatorially minded in the Congress be permitted to go with such perfidy?

It is doubtful if any plank could be written in the platform of either or both major political parties that would be more appropriate, and that would meet with more general approval than one condemning in no uncertain terms the trend toward dictatorship in the United States. And the sooner the dictatorially minded in the Congress are driven from office, the better off the country will be.

'Senator Taft Has Perfect Record for Making Mistakes'

Atlanta—Private Sherwood of Fort Bragg asks: "How can there be any doubt in anyone's mind that there is a man better qualified to be president than Senator Taft?"

I don't believe that's what he meant to say, but in my mind there's definitely no doubt that there is a man infinitely better qualified.

If Mr. Sherwood does any intelligent reading on candidates' records, he should surely find his answer. Even if he only looks at pictures, Baldy's Constitution cartoons should furnish a clue.

In my opinion, Senator Taft has an almost perfect record—of mistakes! If that's the kind of ability Mr. Sherwood admires, Senator Taft is certainly his candidate, as well as the Kremlin's.

And if a pleasing personality in place of a drab one constitutes "glamour," let's have more of it.

The Issue Concerned Question Of Constitutionality of Act

Roswell—Without going into the pros and cons of the steel strike, I would like to point out an example of muddled thinking which does not contribute to the creation of understanding and co-operation.

When told of the Supreme Court's decision one steelworker said: "What do those judges know about steelworkers and steelmaking?"

The issue, however, was not concerning steel or steelworkers but concerning the constitutionality of President Truman's seizure of the steel mills. And, concerning the Constitution, the judges do have some knowledge of it.

'Margaret Mitchell's Home Should Be Made a Shrine'

Atlanta—Throughout the world the name of Atlanta is synonymous with Margaret Mitchell. Her book acquainted many people in many lands with a part of American history they would otherwise have never known.

Now the residents of Atlanta are allowing her home to be torn down. It is a shame!

Would it not be possible to establish it as a shrine to her, to allow Atlanta's future visitors not only to see a lovely example of Southern architecture of her own era, but the place this great woman lived?

One Can Starve For Affection

I was interested recently in reading of a movie which was shown at a New York City meeting of health educators. Its purpose was to show that babies need love as much as they need food and it traced the mental wasting of 91 well-fed babies in a South American orphanage.

The orphanage provided adequate food, clothing and all the material needs. However, the home had only a few nurses and they did not have time to give the babies love and attention. The result was that 27 died in their first year, seven in the second, while another 27 developed into feeble-minded adults.

Dr. J. A. Hadfield of London University has recently published a book supporting the theory that emotional disturbances in later life are mainly due to a lack of proper love and understanding in childhood. Of course, there are many causes of emotional upsets but certainly lack of love is a major cause.

Let me give an actual example. A lady about 35 years old came to me as an alcoholic. I certainly am no expert on alcoholism but I have done the best I could to help some. In every instance where I have seen progress made, it came by finding a cause for the emotional unbalance that resulted in alcoholism.

This lady talked to me about how wrong everything is. She did not like Atlanta. The people here are snooty, she claimed, and she planned to move. The company she works for is heartless and cruel, she said. Her boss is mean to her and goes out of his way to make her work unpleasant.

She refused to go to church because church people are all self-righteous and are unfriendly. She divorced her husband because he put his own people before her. He was kind and good to his mother and neglected her, she told me.

She finally told me that her own family had always treated her mean. She never wanted to see her mother or father again. I discovered that when she was born her parents had set their hearts on having a son. When a girl came, they were disappointed.

Ten years later another baby came into that home and it was a boy. He was named for his father. He was adored and every attention was given him. The little girl was somewhat pushed aside. The mother would read to them, holding the little boy in her lap while the girl would sit in a chair by herself.

By the time she was 18 or 20, she was starved. Doctors tell us that if we do not eat properly, our stomachs will shrink to the point that we become incapable of eating a full meal. So with our affection. One can reach the point where the capacity to either love or be loved is wasted away.

In tomorrow's column I will discuss this further.

Ike's Old Chef Plugs for Him

NEW YORK—Just had a talk with an Eisenhower supporter who was virtually run out of Philadelphia in 1948, and by the police, too, for saying that Ike would make a fine president. Matter of fact, I helped to run him out, I'm now sorry to say.

He is Marty Snyder, a big, good-natured fellow who used to be a chef at the Waldorf and Lindy's and became Ike's top mess sergeant in England, North Africa and on the continent. Then he came home and with another GI named Johnny Schwartz—head waiter at some of the functions Marty arranged for during the war—opened a New York restaurant.

Ike ate there after the war. Marty, who idolizes the general, was moved to promote an Eisenhower-for-President movement in 1947. The following summer he went to the big national conventions with a sound-equipped Jeep and met with disaster.

But that's getting ahead of the story.

He became the chief mess sergeant assigned to Ike's headquarters when his first boss, Maj. Gen. Russell B. Hartle, with whom he went to North Ireland in '42, took sick in London.

Marty followed the boss to a lot of places after that, Casablanca, Algiers, back to England, the shove-off base for D-Day, the camp near Omaha Beach, and all the other stops as far as Potsdam. Then he came home, got into the restaurant business and was doing fine—until he took the Jeep to Philly to try to help his hero.

He had had a song about Ike composed by a restaurant patron named Fox.

Marty played it, conservatively, 4,973,610 times at the Republican convention. Nobody in authority objected, though a few newsmen who tried to sleep in the Bellevue Stratford did. Marty came back for the Democratic convention and turned the juice up a little. "We Want Eisenhower for President" drowned out even the explosion of the Dixiecrats. Times played, 17,601,923. Marty's speeches: 392,004. The protests mounted.

J. Howard McGrath, then chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was having enough trouble putting Mr. Truman over. He decided to liquidate Marty, and found support among insomnia sufferers. Suddenly the Philly cops began giving Marty a hard time. But he had a permit. McGrath installed loud speakers on the environs of Marty's thunderous Jeep and tried to drown him out with dance music. Marty turned on more juice, and windows shook as far away as Camden.

Finally they hauled our Marty to the station house and ordered him to leave town. He demanded that they arrest him, but the cops were too smart. Marty came back to New York to find his partners upset over the notoriety he received. He sold out, in a huff, and now is a big man in his own boneless whole turkey business, cooked or uncooked, and doing fine.

tary expenditures to what the nation's economy could bear than trying to meet a "target date" based on a guess "as to when Stalin will perform."

What was involved, Herter explained, was a slowing up of the rate of the American military buildup. Such an adjustment has been described by the Pentagon as a "stretch-out," and has been strongly opposed by the defense department, the representative said.

The General's conference with the Massachusetts delegation, most of whom favor his nomination, was the last of four meetings with state delegations today at his home. Earlier he had talked with delegates and alternates from New Hampshire, Connecticut and Delaware.

MORE MEETINGS

Further conferences of the same nature are scheduled tomorrow with delegates from Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina. On Wednesday the General will meet with delegates from Maryland and New York, and on Thursday, with the delegations from South Carolina, New Jersey, Virginia, Rhode Island, Vermont and Maine. Friday he will go to his farm near Gettysburg, Pa., to meet the Pennsylvania delegation.

According to members of delegations that visited him today, the General took the opportunity to clarify his stand on civil rights.

Herter reported that Eisenhower had been questioned about civil rights and legislation providing for a federal Fair Employment Practices Commission by Lawrence Banks of Boston, a Negro alternate in the Massachusetts delegation.

In reply, Herter said, the General declared himself absolutely in favor of equality for all races and religions but against any attempt to require all employers, by federal legislation, to cease discrimination in employment because this would be an invasion of the police functions of the several states. The General said, according to Herter, that he would not object to setting up a federal commission to promote fairer treatment for minority groups in employment so long as it had no police powers.

Homefolks Seeing Cyclorama for Free

The tourist here seldom misses it, but many Atlantans have never seen it—that's the Cyclorama, Atlanta's own unique attraction.

But Monday night, with admission free, about 5,000 Atlantans trooped to Grant Park to view the newly remodeled Cyclorama, Mayor Hartsfield said.

The open house will be held again Tuesday from 7:30 to 10 p. m.

AUGUSTA WITNESSES

Carpenter also called a list of witnesses from Augusta, who came to Atlanta by bus to appear for Eason. They included Richmond Deputy Sheriff Frederick Powell, who was with Eason when he was arrested on May 23 while escorting a group of Richmond school children to the Fox Theater; Mrs. Powell, who was a chaperon for the 126 children; C. C. Pollard, a school bus driver, and various Richmond County PTA officials who were with the group.

The city had 13 witnesses, including Capts. E. O. Mullen and J. D. Ragsdale and Lt. J. B. Harper, who made the arrest on Spring Street, N. W.

Pace Repudiates General's 'Can't Win in Korea' Opinion

WASHINGTON, June 9—(AP)—Army Secretary Frank Pace Jr. said today the doubt expressed by Maj. Gen. Daniel H. Hudelson that the United Nations can win in Korea is contrary to everything the highest military leaders have to report.

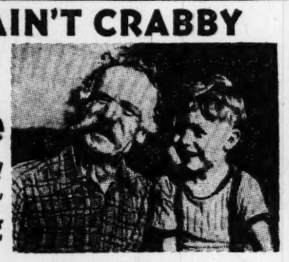

Pace referred to comments by Hudelson, the outgoing commander of the 40th Division, on reaching Los Angeles last night after 21 months in Korea. The division is a California National Guard outfit.

"Any opinion to the effect that United Nations forces in Korea would be defeated if the Communists should attack is contrary to everything that our highest military leaders in the field—the men who know most about the situation—have to report," Pace said in a statement.

Hudelson told newsmen he doesn't see how the United Nations can win the Korean War.

"We simply don't have the manpower to stand up against the Communist hordes, even though our equipment is the best there is," Hudelson said.

nists mixed with the popping of concussion grenades, the swish of tear gas rockets and the heavier explosions of Communist gasoline dumps.

NO SHOTS FIRED

The Reds fought back with spears, swords, Molotov cocktail gasoline bombs, rocks and knives.

Not a shot was fired by the paratroopers. They had bullets in the rifle magazines but none in the firing chambers. The seasoned paratroopers charged the trenches with bayonets.

They cut holes in the compound buildings and tossed in tear gas and grenades.

The North Korean leader, Col. Lee Hak Woo, surrendered meekly after 20 minutes. He was "frog-walked" on his hands and legs to solitary confinement. So were about 10 other leaders.

3 WOMEN

Three women were captured among the last-stand group of 300 Reds.

The prisoners included an eight-year-old boy, his brother, 14, and their father.

Maj. David Korn, Richmond, Va., said he saw the Red leaders kill at least five of their own men with spears when they tried to surrender.

"They were stuck in the stomach with spears," Korn said.

Bodies of decapitated North Koreans were found in the trenches surrounding all compound buildings. Blood flowed freely in the 3½ feet deep trenches.

Brick-Rubbing Torture by Reds Told by Bishop

HONG KONG, June 9 (AP)—An American Roman Catholic bishop said today Chinese Communists rubbed his wrists and knees raw with bricks to force him to pay a $3,333 ransom.

The 57-year-old bishop, Adolph Paschang, Martinsburg, Mo., was expelled from China as a Nationalist spy last Friday. He arrived here today.

A PLACE IN THEIR HEARTS

Atlantan Wins Friends And Influences Bogotans

By JOHN KISER

An Atlanta diplomat has been adopted by a South American city.

Either his friendly demeanor or his knowledge of Spanish or both have won for M. Gordon Brown a special place in the hearts of the people of Bogota, Columbia, where for the past two years he has been the U. S. "cultural attache."

To the Bogotans the prestige of the U. S. has risen several points as they have taken into their way of life this tall, handsome Atlantan who "speaks our Spanish as well as we do."

Brown

Only recently the smiling face of the former Georgia Tech professor appeared on the cover of "Semana," Bogota's weekly magazine that is comparable to "Time."

Brown's job has been to interpret the life and civilization of the U. S. to the residents of Columbia. But he has added all kinds of human understanding to the work and now his activities cover "everything except politics," according to his brunette wife, Annie S. Brown of 1230 Piedmont Ave., N. E., who is science co-ordinator for Atlanta schools.

She recalled that he holds two Ph. D. degrees, one in French and one in Spanish, and speaks fluently six different languages.

To many Atlantans the Bogotans' discovery is nothing new.

Old friends like Mrs. Carmen Vallebuona of 255 Rumson Rd., N. E., a native of Perue, maintain he is the only American who can "really speak Spanish."

And Athos Menaboni, the well-known Atlanta bird painter, calls Brown "amazing" because "he knows as much about Italy and the Italian language as I do."

Col. Blake Van Leer, president of Georgia Tech, where Brown was Spanish professor, commented:

"Officially, he's resigned, but as far as I'm concerned he can have his job back any time he wants it."

The author of the Spanish magazine article stresses Brown's ability to fit into the south-of-the-border way of life, and says that even Brown himself, "although 100 per cent American," would like to say "manana" and do tomorrow what ought to be done today.

"But he must say 'now'," the article states, "because no one on the Russian side says manana."

of national policy, that they will have fair prices."

TRIBUTE TO RUSSELL

Brannan drew a round of applause when he paid tribute to Georgia's Senator Russell as "a great friend of agriculture."

He said farm legislation in the Senate has fared well because of Russell's adroit handling. "He brought the recent agricultural appropriations bill through in good shape," Brannan said. "In fact," the secretary smiled, "some of the things passed which I frankly didn't expect would be approved."

The speaker said Georgia and the South are making a tremendous contribution to the nation's expanding economy. Agriculture, he pointed out, is moving ahead more rapidly in the South than anywhere else in the country.

INTRODUCED BY PACE

Secretary Brannan was introduced by Stephen Pace of Americus, former congressman from the Third District and now general counsel of the Southeastern Peanut Association.

Monday morning members of the association were told that peanut butter, the manufacture of which already takes about 125 million pounds of goobers yearly, may soon become part of every soldier's field rations.

Andrew F. Freeman, research chemist, said the government has found that peanut butter is a favorite with servicemen and has asked chemists to perfect a method of fortifying it with Vitamin A with the aim of putting the product in field rations.

The three-day meeting will end Tuesday following reports of committees and election of officers. E. J. Young of Dawson is retiring president.

Court Rule on School Segregation Expected

decision late this year. While the appeals revolve specifically around the schools mentioned, the impact of a Supreme Court ruling would affect the whole term of public school segregation.

The South Carolina case has attracted wide attention, especially as Governor Byrnes has said his state will abandon its public school system if segregation is outlawed. Some of the other Southern states, for instance Georgia, Virginia and Alabama, are said to be considering a similar program.

The Negro parents bringing the appeal asked the Supreme Court to upset rulings by two special federal district courts sitting in Charleston and Topeka. In the South Carolina case, the appellants pleaded that the Negro who is "subjected to segregated education is segregated against his will and is forced into ostracism symbolizing inferiority which colors his thoughts and action at almost every moment."

SEPARATE BUT EQUAL

Segregation in public schools was upheld by the two special courts in view of a historic Supreme Court finding that there is no violation where "separate but equal" facilities are furnished. In the Topeka case, the three-judge court found facilities substantially equal; in the South Carolina lawsuit, the court found state authorities complying with a decree to equalize facilities "as soon as humanly possible."

The South Carolina case has been in and out of the Supreme Court for months. In May, 1951, the three-judge court found the laws had not been violated, but that facilities for Negro children were inferior. The court ordered state authorities to make necessary changes at once.

An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, but that tribunal returned the matter to the three-judge court for a report on the progress for equal facilities in Clarendon County. In turn, the special court last March reported on progress made, but refused to issue a decree abandoning segregation. From this statement, the Negro parents again appealed.

In reporting on changes under way, in Clarendon County, the three-judge court said there was "no doubt" educational facilities for Negroes would be made equal by the opening of the schools next September.

"Plaintiffs," reported the court, "contend that because they (the facilities) are not now equal we should enter a decree abolishing segregation and opening all district schools at once to white persons and Negroes."

"A sufficient answer is that the defendants (school authorities) have complied with the decree of this court to equalize conditions as rapidly as humanly possible, that conditions will be equalized by the beginning of the next school year disrupting the organization of the schools so near the end of the scholastic year."

Segregation in the Topeka case is confined to the sixth grade and lower. Junior and senior high schools do not operate under the practice.

The South Carolina and Kansas cases are expected to have a direct bearing on a similar controversy in the District of Columbia. Four Negro children were denied admission to the Sousa Junior High School here in September 1950. Their parents lost a fight in Federal District Court, and the matter is now pending in the United States Court of Appeals.

Steel Talks Collapse on Union Shop

it is estimated that the total direct cost of the companies' proposals would be about $400,000,000 a year.

John A. Stephens, vice-president of United States Steel, made the following statement:

"In our effort to bring the present strike in the steel industry to a peaceful conclusion the companies have made a third and final offer which goes far toward meeting the union's economic demands.

"SOLE MATTER"

"Actually the sole matter remaining in dispute is the union's demand for the union shop. The granting of this demand would require the companies to force employees to join the union to keep their jobs.

"We refuse to do this under the firm belief that in the United States, membership or non-membership in a union should be a matter of free choice with the individual employee."

Murray also had a statement ready when the reporters were called into the conference room at 8:03 p. m. It said:

"COMPLETELY DEADLOCKED"

"I regret very much that we have been unable to conclude a settlement of the long-pending steel dispute. The breakdown in negotiations is again due to the adamant refusal of the industry to meet the needs of the steelworkers. The steel companies have refused to do justice with respect to wages, fringes, union security and contract terms."

Dr. John R. Steelman, acting director of defense mobilization, made the first announcement of the breakdown. He said:

"I deeply regret to say that I find the parties completely deadlocked. There is nothing further I can do now. However, the negotiators are to be subject to call at any time."

Dr. Steelman sat between Murray and Stephens as he made his announcement and then turned the conference over to them.

Murray, replying to a question about his offer to co-operate in limited production, said his statement means "we will do anything our government wants us to do to make essential military material."

Stephens said "we will do everything we possibly can. When the needs are known the company officials will contact the district leaders of the union to make the arrangements required."

An industry press release said that the six largest steel companies offered the union the following basis for settlement:

1. General increase in wage rates averaging 16 cents an hour (to be applied by increasing the Job Class 1 (lowest) rates by 12.5 cents and by increasing the spread between job classes by half a cent.)

2. Six paid holidays, double time for holiday workers, with appropriate provisions as to eligibility.

3. Increase shift differentials to six cents an hour for second shift and nine cents an hour for third shift.

4. Three weeks vacation after 15 years of service effective Jan. 1, 1952.

5. Decrease Southern differential of U. S. Steel and Republic by five cents an hour.

6. Above adjustments to be effective upon execution of complete agreements and return to work, except that general increase in wage rates to be retroactive to April 1, 1952.

7. Agreement to run to June 30, 1954, reopenable by either party as of June 30, 1953, on the subject of general adjustment of wage rates.

8. Union security provisions of present agreements which provide for freedom of choice of individual employees to join or refrain from joining the union, will not be changed.

9. All other matters must be satisfactorily resolved.

10. This proposal is made on condition that it be accepted promptly.

Local Here Backs Murray

Local 2401, United Steelworkers of America, Monday passed a resolution pledging 100 per cent support to Philip Murray, as steel contract negotiations collapsed on a national level.

The union members also voted to sign a contract and return to work immediately on the basis of the Wage Stabilization Board recommendation.

In announcing the vote of confidence for Murray, W. H. Crawford, director of District No. 35, CIO-USA, said the resolution praised Murray as "an outstanding leader of labor, a great citizen and a champion of the cause of the steelworkers of America."

The resolution also expressed "deep, undying appreciation for the leadership and service rendered by President Murray of our great union." Crawford said at present there are no union-management sessions planned.

Ex-Union Aide's Forgery Trial Listed June 17

Trial of J. S. Pickard, former treasurer of the Atlanta trolley operators' union, on a 20-count forgery charge has been set for June 17 before Fulton Superior Court Judge Virlyn Moore.

Pickard, recently sued for $48,000 damages by the local union on charges he "fraudulently converted to his own use" union funds, was indicted by the Fulton County Grand Jury May 13 on charges of forging 10 checks said to have been illegally drawn on the union's pension fund.

He was re-indicted June 6, but attaches in Sol. Gen. Paul Webb's office pointed out there were no additional charges in the second true bill, which was merely a restatement of the original 20-count forgery charge for the purpose of correcting a typographical error in the May 13 indictment.

A "show cause" hearing on the suit, scheduled for Monday, has been delayed until June 16 at request of the plaintiff's attorney.

Boys, Girls Seek 'State' Offices Here

By BILL DIEHL

Georgia's junior politicos are learning early the value of eye-catching and ear-easy slogans in political campaigns.

Their techniques were in bold evidence on the Georgia Tech and Georgia Military Academy campuses where Boys State and Girls State warmed up for some fast and furious politicking Monday. The teen-age sessions are sponsored by the American Legion and its auxiliary.

At GMA, with stumping under full steam, such "prominent personalities" as Martha Washington (a Georgia high school girl) and Dempsey (Eleanor Dempsey of East Point) were cashing in on their historic names.

Jackie Arrington of Americus was proclaiming "it's Jackie by crackie for governor," and another young politico was running on a ticket, "let me be ordinary and I'll marry you free!"

Numerous hats were in the ring amongst the ladies. Dell Tyre of Jesup, Peggy Green of Gray; Frances Stevens of Haddock; Jan Tidmore of Dawson; Carolyn Herman of LaGrange; Ettie Lou Wages of Buford and Louise Rainey of Newnan, all were out to snare positions as heads of city governments.

By Monday evening, the city governments at Boys' State at Georgia Tech were operating smoothly under the direction of their newly elected leaders. The 12 cities were run by E. C. Mims of Boston; Morton Boyette of Gray; Curtis Cawthon of Atlanta; Don Lash of Dawson; Jimmy Middleton of Tunnell Hill; Carl Duren of Valdosta; Kerry Coe of Brunswick; Gary Willingham of Hapeville; Alton Bush of Cartersville; Paul White of Atlanta; Winn Hines of Leslie and Billy Morrison of Chickamauga.

Once the governments are established and the voting is over, the rules and regulations tighten up. Judges of superior and city courts try misdemeanors (littering the grounds, making noise after taps) and "felonie."

Tuesday, stumping will start early again as the Boys and Girls States hold their county conventions and elections. They will choose sheriffs, commissioners, judges and other officials.

Minister Dies After 51-Day Fast

CHERRYVILLE, Mo., June 9—(INS)—The Rev. J. J. Ivie, 57-year-old Assembly of God minister, died today on the 51st day of his fast.

The fasting preacher had vowed he would not eat until his prayers were answered for "the more perfect will of God for my own life."

The Ozark preacher died in his home in the small crossroads village of Cherryville. There are only 36 residents in the town.

Mrs. Ivie, also an ordained minister, said her husband was conscious until the end. At his bedside besides Mrs. Ivie were five sons and a daughter.

Fulton Taxpayers Due To Receive Refund Checks

Fulton County taxpayers can expect refunds on 1951 property taxes ranging from "a piece of small change" to $33 this week.

County Tax Collector T. E. Suttles announced Monday that some 60,000 checks totaling about $800,000 are ready for mailing.

Refunds, varying in accordance with total property tax assessments, are the result of a recent State Supreme Court opinion ruling out elimination of homestead exemption on Fulton County school taxes. The court held that a proposed constitutional amendment that would have eliminated homestead exemption did not win voters' approval in the 1950 general election.

Both residents of the old Atlanta city limits and those in other county areas will receive refunds.

Hearing on Student Plea Postponed in Rabun

Constitution State News Service

CLAYTON, June 9—(AP)—Rabun Superior Court hearing on a habeas corpus petition for Randolph B. Fugate, 15, charged with assault with intent to murder, was postponed today at his attorney's request. A new date for hearing was not set.

Fugate and Fred R. McColl of College Park are charged with shooting T. J. Stukes, one of their teachers at Rabun Gap-Nacoochee boarding school. The shooting followed an argument over pinup pictures. Stukes, who was wounded in the chest, has recovered.

The habeas corpus petition for Fugate was filed against Rabun County Sheriff Lemon Queen. It attacked the Georgia's juvenile court laws, contending that since the boy is accused of a felony the juvenile court system cannot take jurisdiction over him as a delinquent. McColl was not involved in the petition, filed before Judge John Frankum.

Since the shooting both the youths have been held at the Georgia Training School for Boys at Milledgeville.

The Boy Who Replaced Shiver

A month has passed since Ted Williams said his goodbyes and went off into the wild blue yonder to join Terry Lee, Hotshot Charles and, to steal a favorite Saturday afternoon football phrase, a whole host of flying soldiers who lead less exciting lives in the pursuit of duty. Somehow, the major leagues don't seem the same without him. And Boston sports sections have developed a certain wan, characterless complexion without their favorite whipping boy, across whose face they were wont to apply a wet halibut now and then.

But his old employers, the Red Sox, have developed no pains of any nature. They have gone about their business in a quiet, dignified manner, the way Beacon Street would have it. They are now grazing around first place with an outfield of Dom DiMaggio, Hoot Evers and Jim Piersall, a reconverted shortstop. No Williams.

Bisher

Sometimes it was written, sometimes it was said, but never did it make sense that the Red Sox were a better ball club without a man capable of driving in 100 runs, striking 30 homers and batting .400. But without him, just as in '50, here the Sox are knocking on the door again.

I felt from the first that Joe Cronin gave himself a fancy trade when he bartered with Detroit. Neither Dropo, Wight, Pesky or Lenhardt appeared to be a major loss, surely neither of the first three. Cronin was a holdout a few hours because Red Rolfe demanded Fred Hatfield. The alumnus of the Birmingham Barons hits left-handed, supplying one Tiger shortage, and he played third base, and Rolfe had to have a competent successor to George Kell.

Kell and Evers, who was a first-class catch, were enough to make the deal a hit with Boston. But old Diz Trout has joined in with the happy throng, too. Johnny Lipon has yet to be heard from.

—The Reaction of a Doped Horse

Just supposing, say, the Red Sox's girdle holds up until the fall. They won't look right in a World Series without Williams, or even Pesky. This is a man with a strange streak of baseball in him, Pesky.

The little man has a lifetime big league batting average of .315. He never hit below .300 but once in his life, that in the '48 season. But he never found a position he could play well, and consequently every time a new infield face came to Boston Pesky was moved over. Even the Tigers appear to have inherited the same problem of employment, for Pesky hasn't started a game yet.

Williams created a puzzle that will live as long as the current baseball generation in Boston. The players appeared to admire him. He was kind to rookies, as in the case of Piersall, who proudly called himself "Ted's boy." He was a good, though never great fielder. But still the Red Sox had a habit of reacting as a doped horse to his absences.

There has been only one plausible explanation, that the other Sox were so determined to prove that life could go on without Williams. When he was around they appeared to be satisfied to allow him to carry more than his load.

—Hardly an Improvement, at First

There's naturally always a beginning point in the story of these supreme aces, and Williams' first lick was sponsored, in a manner, by the old Georgia end, Ivy (Chick) Shiver.

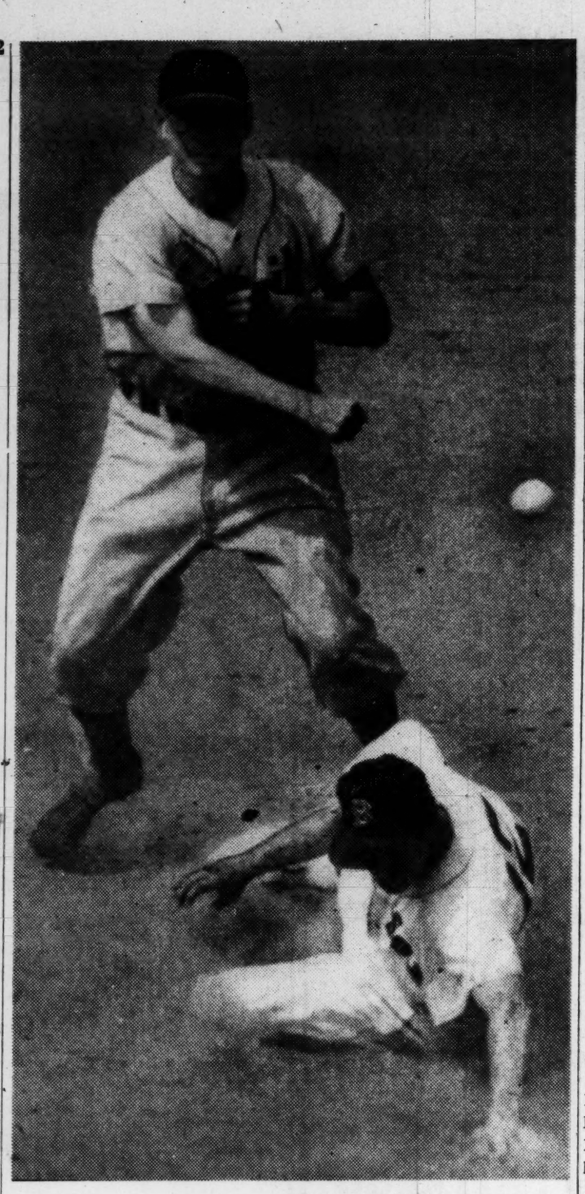

It was in 1936. Shiver was playing left field for San Diego. He'd been a pro for about 10 years. He'd had his fling with Detroit, and another trial run with Cincinnati, but they always said that until the curve ball joined the spitball in exile, old Ivy would never take root in the majors.

Williams had signed with San Diego as a gangling 17-year-old pitcher after three workouts. There was no bonus involved, only the understanding he wouldn't be farmed out. It wasn't too good a deal for either party until around mid-August, when Shiver made a quick decision on a new career.

Savannah High School offered him the job as football coach. Shiver turned in his uniform, told Owner Bill Lane he was through and left for Georgia. Williams was awarded left field, mainly through default, and from the first he was blessed. The late Eddie Collins, then general manager of the Sox, was in the house the day he broke in. Collins had come to close a deal for Bobby Doerr, but he couldn't keep his eyes off the splintery kid's natural swing.

Notable in fact and figure is that Williams was no improvement on Shiver. Chick walked out a .309 hitter. Williams substituted a .271 bat. Shiver had hit seven home runs and drove home 41 runs in 54 games. Williams never homered and was relatively docile with men on base.

But this was only the beginning.

Crackers Measured For Sixth Straight

Vols Lash Atlantans, 10-3, With 13-Hit Power Barrage

By JESSE OUTLAR
Constitution Sports Writer

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 9—Riddled with six straight defeats and a host of injuries, the Atlanta Crackers staggered out of Nashville Monday night after absorbing a 10-3 lacing from dwellers of Sulphur Dell.

But you can't put too much blame on the band-box park this time, for the Vols probably would have swept the four-game series in any park.

With Harry Hanebrink, John Rucker and Carlton Willey on the shelf with a series of ailments, the Crackers aren't too hard to handle.

Joe Payne, who was kayoed during the Vols' seven-run production in the fifth, joined the ailing list Monday night. The frail right-hander collapsed in the Cracker dugout the following inning, but was revived in the clubhouse. Apparently, he was a victim of heat exhaustion.

The fast-moving Vols equalled their longest winning streak of the year Monday night—four in a row

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 9—Atlanta pitcher Joe Payne, who was knocked out of the box during Nashville's seven-run outburst in the fifth inning Monday night, collapsed in the Cracker dugout in the next stanza.

Payne was carried to the clubhouse, where he came around a few minutes later, apparently a victim of heat exhaustion. He also complained that his back hurt. The right-hander was out most of last season with a back injury.

—and are only one length behind the fading fourth-place Crackers.

This latest licking gave the Crackers a 4-7 record in a disastrous road tour that started on a bright note with three one-sided romps over Birmingham.

Monday's game was about as exciting as a ladies' aid meeting. The Crackers used Chuck Tanner's infield hit, a double by Vern Petty and an infield out for a pair of markers in the second.

Nashville started Payne spinning towards his second defeat—he has won five—with a run in the first on a walk, Rance Pless' single and a pair of fielder's choices.

Tribe Gets Majeski From A's

Condensed From Wire Reports

The Cleveland Indians bought veteran third baseman Hank Majeski from the Philadelphia Athlectics Monday.

Hank Majeski

General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians said he thought Majeski fills a long-felt need for a right-handed pinch hitter and additional bench strength. The amount of cash involved was not announced.

Majeski, who is 35, hit .285 for Philadelphia last year and has a lifetime batting average of .283. His best year was 1948 when he hit .310 with the A's.

The Cincinnati Reds have optioned outfielder Wally Post to Milwaukee of the American Association.

Bosox Pay $86,000 To Prepper

Condensed From Wire Reports

Major league baseball clubs continue spanking breath into bonus babies. At The Dalles, Oregon, $86,000 of owner Tom Yawkey's legal tender went to 18-year-old Eddie Urness for affixing his signature to a Boston Red Sox contract.

Urness, recent high school graduate, was a prep whiz as a right-handed strikeout artist.

Harvey Kuenn

Eddie Urness

The Detroit Tigers paid out the second largest bonus in the club's history, $55,000, for the commitment of Harvey Kuenn, University of Wisconsin shortstop. The youngster hit .444 in the Big Ten season just ended.

What may, or may not be a bargain is represented in the contract of Dick Duignan, Providence College outfielder, who got $12,000 for promising his services to Philadelphia's Phillies. Duignan's contract was inked with Interstate League club Wilmington, Del., a Phils' farm club.

Bosox Nip Tigers, Move Game Ahead

BOSTON, June 9—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox moved a full game ahead of the second-place New York Yankees Monday by overcoming a four-run deficit for a 9-8 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

Home runs by former Bostonians Walt Dropo and Don Lenhardt, the latter with three mates aboard, were in vain as the Sox scored the winning run in the sixth inning on an error by former teammate Johnny Pesky.

The Tigers chased left-hander Mel Parnell in the opening inning when they scored four times.

The Sox came right back with five of their own runs in the second as they rapped six singles and bombed starter Marlin Stuart from the box.

Dom DiMaggio was on second after a single and a sacrifice and Hoot Evers was on first with a walk when Pesky let Georgie Kell's grounder go through him for a two-base error which allowed Di-Mag to score what turned out to be the winning run.

Shrine Ready For Annual Horse Show

Dixie's show horse owners and handlers flocked to North Fulton Park Monday.

Big vans loaded with expensive thoroughbred saddle horses, harness horses, jumpers, ponies and what not, were rolling into town for the big Atlanta Shrine horse show opening Wednesday afternoon for a four-day run.

Shrine officials, who have built this show up to one of the biggest in the Southeast, are expecting most of the outstanding show horse stables in this section to be on hand.

The show, noted for its color and variety of classes, will open at 1:30 Wednesday. Night shows get under way at 7:30 p. m. Matinee and night programs are scheduled each day through Saturday. The big finale Saturday night will feature the various stake champions.

General admission tickets will be sold at the box office before each performance.

Salt Lake Seeks Walcott for Layne

SALT LAKE CITY, June 9—(AP)—Marv Jenson, who manages young heavyweight Rex Layne, said Monday that the proposed Layne-Jersey Walcott championship fight in Salt Lake City "is a lot closer to reality than most anyone suspects."

Jenson said the fight would have a dual attraction for the veteran heavyweight champ: A $250,000 to $500,000 gate and a chance to avenge an earlier loss to Layne.

"I have contacted Jim Norris, of the International Boxing Club, and Felix Bocchicchio, manager of Walcott, and both are receptive to the Salt Lake proposition," Jenson declared.

'FIX' DEFENSE

Fraud Old, Lawyer Tells Jury

NEW YORK, June 9—(AP)—The lawyer for two alleged basketball fixers indicated Monday he would try to prove that "conditions of immorality"—and an alleged bribe conspiracy—existed long before his clients came onto the scene.

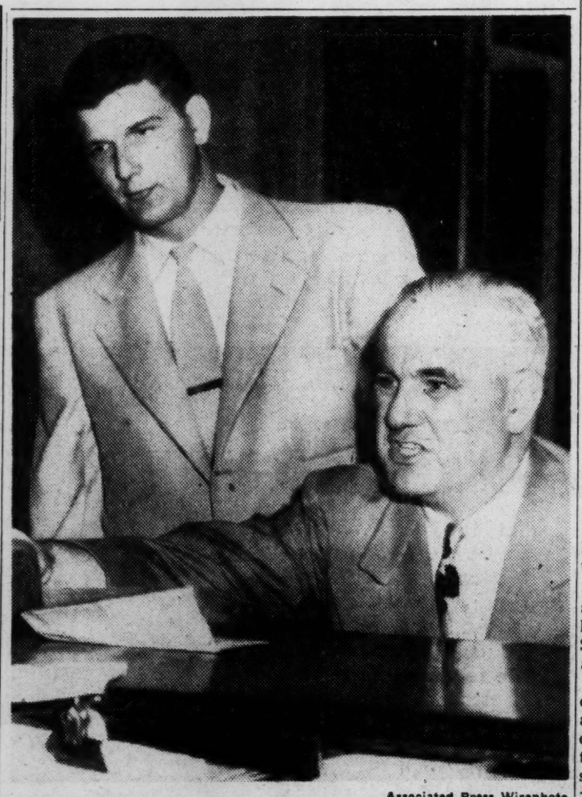

The state said it would prove that Joseph Benintende, 42, and Jack (Zip) West, 39, conspired to bribe players on the Bradley University and University of Kentucky teams.

The state also promised testimony by star basketball players of the 1949-1950 season—already sentenced for accepting bribes—on their dealings with the two defendants.

Defense attorney Samuel Segal, in his opening statement to the jury, said they would have to decide whether Benintende and West were trying to bribe players or just "seeking information in order to place bets."

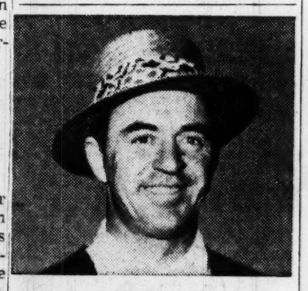

"It is for you to say," he added, "whether the conspiracy had existed long before the defendants entered the scene."

A witness, Saul Feinberg, 26, a former New York University law student, testified he made a deal with the defendants in December, 1949, to contact Dale Barnstable, former Kentucky star.

Moran, Sailors To Co-Captain North's Lighthouse All-Stars

RUSSELL'S BILLY MORAN SCOOPS UP GROUNDER
He'll Captain North All-Star Squad Here Next Week

Jonesboro Puts Two on Squad

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Sixteen of Georgia's most outstanding high school senior baseball players from 15 different schools—including two from state championship teams, perhaps the fastest runner in the state and the most highly touted player in these parts in years—have been chosen to play in the third annual Lighthouse All-Star game at Ponce de Leon Park on Thursday, June 19.

The two boys from title-winning teams are shortstop Lamar West, whose big bat and sparkling fielding helped Avondale in its climb to the state Class A pinnacle, and Wallace Kelley, Pepperell outfielder-catcher who played a big part in the Lindale club's ascension to the state Class B throne.

The speed merchant is Gainesville High second baseman, Harry Wing, who won the 100 and 220 events in the annual state track meet, and also ran first in the 220 in the Georgia-Alabama meet.

The highly touted performer is Russell High shortstop Billy Moran, who is being chosen captain of the North squad that will be managed by ex-big league hurler Whitlow Wyatt and coached by Gus Letchas of Milton High.

Moran, a five-eleven 175-pounder who was chosen as Greater Atlanta's most outstanding player of the year in a recent poll, batted .402.

Billy Sailors, six-foot 170-pounder, who is regarded as the best all-round athlete to come from Jefferson High in years, is named alternate captain and will play first base.

Four batterymen come from the Atlanta City League. Pitcher Wiley Walker, who hurled Grady to the loop crown, compiled an 11-1 record, and allowed no team more than two runs, and Jimmy Nisewonger, O'Keefe six-footer, will be two of the pitchers.

Smith High's Reggie Ballard, and Charles (Sonny) Johnson of North Fulton are the catchers.

Only team to place two men on the squad is Jonesboro. Joe Huie, regarded by old pro Doc Kirksey, who coaches him, as "about the best outfielder in Georgia," and pitcher Alfred Middlebrooks, author of three shutouts and one no-hitter, will represent that town.

Tucker High's tremendously swift Jim Flanigan and Milton's highly effective Carroll Shirley round out the pitching staff. Newnan's Ray Weaver will be at third base.

Arvie Pilgrim, one of the most able clutch performers ever to play for Rome(and Buford's Billy Ivey, who has tremendous power at the plate—and pitching ability when not on outfield patrol duty—round out the outfield.

The South team will be announced Wednesday.

Lighthouse North All-Star Team

PITCHERS—Wiley Walker (Atlanta Grady), Jim Flanigan (Tucker), Carroll Shirley (Milton of Alpharetta), Jimmy Nisewonger (O'Keefe of Atlanta), Alfred Middlebrooks (Jonesboro).
CATCHERS—Reginald Ballard (Smith of Atlanta), Charles (Sonny) Johnson (North Fulton of Atlanta).
FIRST BASE—Billy Sailors (Jefferson).
SECOND BASE—Harry Wing (Gainesville).
SHORTSTOPS—Billy Moran (Russell of East Point), Lamar West (Avondale).
THIRD BASE—Ray Weaver (Newnan).
OUTFIELDERS—Arvie Pilgrim (Rome), Billy Ivey (Buford), Wallace Kelly (Pepperell of Lindale), Joe Huie (Jonesboro).

Home Runs Afford Bums 8th Straight

ST. LOUIS, June 9—(AP)—Eighth-inning home run blasts by Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo, each with a man on base, broke open a tight duel between the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals Monday night and gave the league leaders their eighth straight victory by a 6 to 2 score. Relief pitcher Joe Black was the winner.

Going into the seventh the Cardinals led, 2 to 0.

Gil Hodges drew a pass to open the seventh and Furillo singled. A walk to Bobby Morgan filled the bases and when Peewee Reese singled two runs scored, tying the score. Al Brazle relieved Boyer and retired the side.

Jackson, Henry Seeded in Meet

Special to The Constitution

DAVIDSON, N. C., June 9—Atlanta's Crawford Henry, and Washington's Harvey Jackson were among Georgians seeded in the Southern Lawn Tennis Juniors and Boys tournament which began here Monday.

Jackson drew the No. 2 berth in Juniors play while Henry was ranked No. 3 in Boys' competition.

Other Georgians seeded (in order):

Juniors—Massie Ballentine, 6, and Lindsey Hopkins, 8, both of Atlanta. Boys—Harry Thompson, Atlanta, 6.

Georgians playing in first round competition were:
JUNIORS—Allen Quay Rome, over Mike Martin, Davidson, 6-1, 6-1; Jerry Adcock, Meridian, over John Smith, Atlanta, 6-2, 6-4; Tom Stephens Nashville, over Dan Huff, Albens, 7-5, 6-2; Gordon McCulley, Atlanta, over Dudley Baird, Augusta, 0-6, 7-5 6-1; Scotty Watson, Anniston, Ala., over Sam Fleming, Augusta, 6-4, 6-2.
BOYS—Chuck Fuller, Atlanta, over John Ackeridge, Darlington (Rome) Prep, 6-2, 6-1; Alfred Thompson, Atlanta, over Dean Newton, Darlington, 6-2, 6-1; Hunter Faulconer, Birmingham, over Robert Grady, Atlanta, 6-1, 6-1; Jack Moss, Darlington, over Sam Morley, Atlanta, 6-4, 6-1; Peter Cox, Washington, D. C. over Ivan Allen, Atlanta, 6-1, 6-1; Mike Neely, Atlanta, over Rowdy Stanton, Darlington, 6-3, 7-5; Charles Garnett, Darlington, over Bill Weyman, Atlanta, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4; and Finley Lee, Charlotte, over Benny Broach, Darlington, 6-1 6-0.

Sauer's Solid, Won't Slump, Says Grimm

CHICAGO, June 9—(AP)—Quip-tossing Charlie Grimm gazed admiringly at the Chicago Cubs' Hank Sauer blasting away in batting practice and boomed at him:

"Herr Sauer, dots all I read you chust knock mit der big bingles und across all der runs come yet."

The new boss of the Boston Braves then turned to baseball writers and seriously said: "I don't look for that big guy to tail off much. He's a solid hitter and he always finishes strong."

Grimm might be a little prejudiced over Sauer, pacing the National League in hitting with .347; in homers with 14; in RBI's with 54; and in hits with 66. Charley, as Cub vice-president, got Sauer and outfielder Frankie Baumholtz from the Cincinnati Reds for Peanuts Lowrey and Harry Walker in 1949.

Kelly Leads Juniors Here

Lester Kelly, University of Georgia golf team member, shot a three-under-par 68 at North Fulton Monday afternoon to lead a field of 45 juniors shooting for places on the Atlanta team which will go to New York City for an inter-city match June 23.

Dick Edwards, who fired a 76; Red Clay, 77, and Bobby Lemming, 79, were other players to earn places on the traveling squad. Lemming, who represents the 15-year-old group, won his place on the second extra hole of a "sudden death" play-off with Charles Thomas and Mike Harvey. Bobby birdied the par-five hole.

Mitchell Snipes tied Clay, but was not available for a play-off and the place went to Clay on a draw. The team, which is sponsored by Buckhead, Decatur and Atlanta 78 Lodge of Elks, will leave Atlanta June 20.

Guy Davises Pistol Winners

Dr. and Mrs. Guy C. Davis came home with 19 trophies Sunday following the North Georgia pistol and revolver championships at Gainesville. Another member of Atlanta's Seven Hills Gun Club, Art Young, copped 10 trophies.

Other Atlanta shooters who ranked high in prize taking were Russ Zibberts, George Milam and Eddie Davis, all firing in the expert classification.

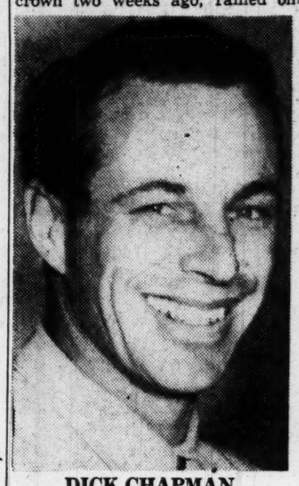

Hurwitz Gains Standard Finals

Herschel Hurwitz gained the championship round of Standard Town and Country Club's President's Cup tournament over the week end, defeating Lester Friedman, 1-up.

Chapman Dumps Maxwell for Title

PARIS, June 9—(AP)—Dick Chapman, the Pinehurst, N. C., veteran who lost his British amateur golf crown two weeks ago, rallied on second round Monday to win the French amateur championship for the second time with a 4-and-3 victory over young Billy Maxwell, the U. S. champion from Odessa, Texas, in their scheduled 36-hole final.

DICK CHAPMAN
Master of Maxwell

The 41-year-old Chapman, whose nerves have been steeled by 17 seasons on the international golf beat, regained the title he first won in 1939 when the 22-year-old Maxwell was in the fourth grade.

Chapman lost his British Amateur title May 29 when David Blair, a little-known Scottish player, upset him in the sixth round at Prestwick, Scotland.

Maxwell, driving and putting perfectly on the rolling Mortfontaine course, took a 1-up lead at the end of the morning round by winning the 18th hole.

But Maxwell hadn't been able to shake off Chapman with his seven-under-par 67 first round. Chapman fired a 68 in the morning.

Pels Cop Loop Lead, Trip Travelers, 6-4

Cellar-Dwelling Memphis Humbles Mobile's Bears, 5-2

By BILL FERGUSON
United Press Sports Writer

New Orleans downed Little Rock, 6-4, Monday night and the youthful Pelicans bounced into the Southern Association lead as the cellar-dwelling Memphis Chicks upset Mobile, 5 to 2.

Manager Danny Murtaugh's Pelicans packed all their scoring punch in the third and eighth innings which along with four tallies in the third was enough to chase Trav starter Milo Johnson and give New Orleans a lead it never lost.

Francis Holleran, who took over the Pelican mound chores in the fourth inning and held Litttle Rock to one run the rest of the route, walked off with the victory.

The veteran Woody Rich knocked Mobile out of the loop lead by holding the Bears to five scattered hits. The Memphis curve-baller had a tough mound duel with Mobile's Leon Griffeth going until the sixth when Ed White socked a three-run homer to give Rich all the lead he needed.

White also drove in a tally for the Chicks in the first inning with a line-drive single. Rich scattered Mobile's five hits over as many innings.

CRACKERS

of the campaign, with one on in the third, put ex-Marine Dick Adair on top for keeps in the third.

Adair, who spaced ten safeties to even his record 2-2, had no worries after the fifth. His mates staked him to a fat 10-2 cushion in that heat.

Two walks, and singles by Dusty Rhodes and Pless shot two runs home and ignited the fireworks. The latter's lick finished Payne, and Al Dumouchelle came on. He stayed around long enough to serve Bob Boring a three-run homer. Phil Tomkinson a double and Adair a single.

Frank Fanovich, the throwaway pitcher this time, ushered Tomkinson home with a wild pitch and tossed Bama Ray a scoring single. That completed the Vol frolic, as Fanovich fanned the side and hurled hitless ball the last three rounds.

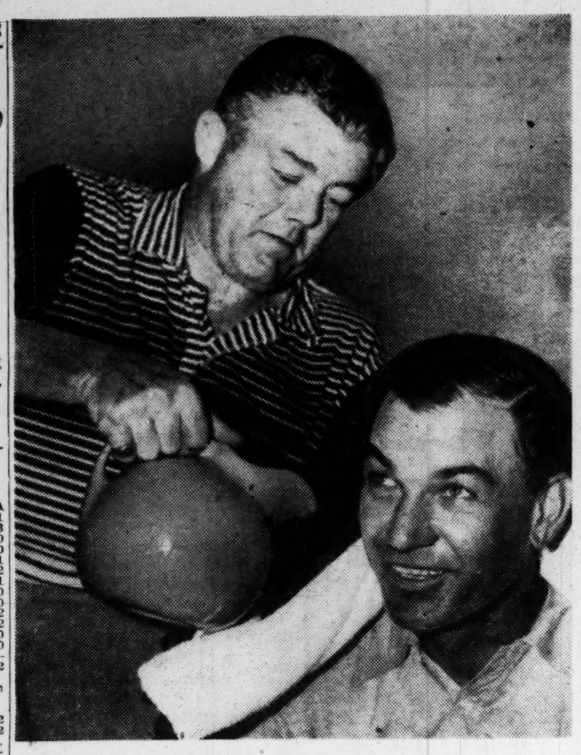

The Crackers netted a worthless run in the sixth on Jim Solt's double, Tanner's second infield hit and a fielder's choice. Catcher Solt played leftfield, with Tanner moving to center as a replacement for the injured Rucker.

Nashville almost negotiated a triple play in the fourth. With Vern Petty on second and Jack Parks on first, Al Aucoin hit a roller to third. Pless stepped on the bag for one out, doubled Parks at second, but Aucoin was ruled safe at first.

Manager Dixie Walker doesn't have any idea who'll pitch Wednesday's doubleheader against Memphis at Poncey. Maybe Whit Wyatt will try another pitching comeback. At any rate, the Crackers have an off day Tuesday to recuperate from their wounds and an all-night bus ride from Nashville.

CRACKER BARREL: The Crackers really lost their one-two punch when injuries forced John Rucker and Harry Hanebrink out of the lineup. Between them, the veteran and the rookie lead the club in seven batting departments. . . . Shortstop Buddy Hicks hurt his knee fielding a ball Sunday, but remained in the lineup Monday. The crippled Crackers, one outfielder short since the Country Brown incident, can't stand the loss of another player.

Bama Ray, veteran Vol outfielder, reached first safely eight straight times (six hits, a walk and fielder's choice) before Joe Payne retired him in the fourth inning Monday. . . . Plate Umpire Frank Girard and Vol Pilot Hugh Poland exchanged a few choice words in the Cracker half of the fifth.

Champ Ben Hogan, Burke on Sick List

Sam Snead's Swollen Knuckle Gives Trouble as Open Nears

DALLAS, June 9—(AP)—Ben Hogan and Jackie Burke turned up with stiff necks Monday to match Sam Snead's swollen knuckle, giving a hospital effect to the National Open Golf tournament opening Thursday.

However, most of the advance arrivals for the 52nd blue ribbon championship were complaining of a pair of more common maladies—intense heat and Northwood's tough par 70.

Hogan, the defending champion who is seeking his fourth title in five years, and Burke, the season's leading money winner, developed cricks in their necks over the weekend, apparently from air conditioning.

Young Burke, son of a Texas professional who was runnerup in the open in 1920, spent the morning having the ailment massaged at a doctor's office.

Hogan tried to eliminate the kink with a long session on the practice tee.

Snead, PGA and Masters champion who is a strong favorite among fellow pros to capture this title for the first time, checked in from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., still favoring a hand injury which developed in the Western Open at St. Louis.

"It's the knuckle behind the little finger on my right hand," Snead explained. "I must have got it fishing. It started swelling at St. Louis and it still hurts when I swing a club."

Like Hogan and Burke, he expects to eradicate his miseries before the first round in the 72-hole, three-day grind Thursday.

Close to 100 of the field of 162 had checked into Northwood Monday for practice rounds over the 6,764-yard tightly knit layout where the par 35-35—70 remained extremely evasive.

Hogan said he had played the course four times in the last week and his best effort has been a 71.

Burke's best has been a pair of 72s and most of the sport's barnstorming clan have been well above par. The best practice round reported was a 67 by Earl Stewart of Dallas. Bobby Locke, the putting master from Johannesburg, had a 69.

Maxim Eats Maximum, Locked Out

GROSSINGER, N. Y., June 9—(AP)—They've padlocked the refrigerator in Joey Maxim's training camp.

Joey Maxim

"Put the lock and chain on it and keep it that way," said fuming Jack (Doc) Kearns, manager of the light heavyweight champion.

"Every time I go away for a few days, everybody eats here like there's no tomorrow. Especially Joey. The slob went up to 189 pounds by Saturday and I only left the champ for a couple of days. Soon as I turn my back they have themselves a picnic eating spaghetti and goulash."

"Okay, okay," said the chef. "I'll do it. I'll be glad to see that icebox locked, too. The champ nibbles at that Swiss cheese all day.

Jack Bell, who pitched a no-hitter last week, limited the Braves to five hits in leading his Flyers to a 10-4 victory in a College Park Little League game Monday night.

Musketeers Take Command Of Prep Baseball Playoffs

Special to The Constitution

AUGUSTA, June 9—Pepperell and Richmond Academy teamed up to eliminate Avondale in the tournament to decide the over-all baseball champion of Georgia among state Class AA, A and B titleholders here Monday afternoon, then host Richmond took the driver's seat by turning on Pepperell in a later game.

Richmond bounced Avondale, 3-1, in the lid-lifter. Pepperell measured Avondale, 9-4, in a first-night game, then fell before Richmond in the double-elimination meet, 5-2.

In the opener, Avondale tagged Richmond's Roy Alewine for seven solid base licks, while the Musketeers garnered a mere four, including three flukes, off the Blue Devils' Snooky Swinks. Fielding lapses by Avondale played an emphatic part in the setback.

Avondale slipped up afield again in the Pepperell clash. Pepperell got rolling in the fourth with two triples, a double and single and the Devils tossed in three errors that combined to give Pepperell five runs in the frame. A triple by Jim Ackerman and Jimmy Pendley's double started Avondale on a three-run strut in the fifth, but pitcher Troy Coffia snuffed the fire before telling damage.

Johnny Menger decided things early for Richmond in the final match of the day. After Bud White filled the bases in the initial inning, Menger slapped a grand-slam homer. Pepperell never recovered as lefty LeRoy Cullens twirled four-hit ball, striking out nine and walking four. White also fanned nine.

Jack Poppell racked two singles, two stolen bases for Richmond.

Richmond and Pepperell meet again Tuesday night, 7:30. A Richmond victory would give the Musketeers their second successive over-all title. Pepperell could force things to an extra day by dumping the Augusta nine.

GOLFING ROUNDUP

O'Neil 'Billiard' Shot Hits Golfer's Pocket

By BERT PRATHER

Lt. John H. O'Neil made a fine billiard shot into a pocket on No. 8 at North Fulton, but unfortunately it didn't help his golf score a bit.

John's freakish shot happened like this: Playing with Julian Lecraw and Ashford Smith, the lieutenant and his partners had hit their tee shots on this par-four hole.

Bert Prather

Joe E. Martin, Bill Baxter, George Mengert and Claude Reels, playing in front of them were on No. 8 green and waved for the O'Neil group to go ahead and hit. Standing on the hump about 130 yards out, John whacked away. His ball hit Joe Martin, but both the "batter" an "receiver" thought the ball bounced off the green.

However, when they started a search for the ball it was nowhere in sight. Finally Martin looked in his hip pocket and there it was. Joe was well aware of being hit by the ball but he never did notice it lodging in his pocket.

Don Younkins is the latest hole-in-oner at North Fulton, sinking a nine iron on the short 11th hole last Thursday, while playing with young Richard Payne. . . . Don finished with a 76. . . . Gene Duncan gave railbirds at North Fulton clubhouse a thriller Sunday when he knocked a four-iron second out of the rough into the cup on No. 6 for an eagle two. . . . He was playing with Don Light, Bob Rosenfeld and Tommy Thompson. . . . The hole is a 398-yard dogleg across a branch. . . .

Charles Harrison, Georgia Tech golf team ace, shot a four-under par 34-34—68 on East Lake No. 2 course Sunday, one of his better efforts . . . F. Graham Williams has set Friday, June 13, as date for the 29th annual golf tournament for architects and architectural draftsmen of the southeast. Starting time is 1:30 to 2:30. The dinner is set for 7:30 . . . Arthur O. Gunter, former member of Georgia's golf team, is now playing for Lackland Field . . . Gardner Dickinson, who is qualified for the U. S. Open, is now a pro at Dellwood. N. Y. . . . Gardner is a protege of Druid Hills' Charlie Miller . . . Charlie taught him at Macon a few years back . . . Bob White and Okefenokee Golf Club officials extend an invitation to all Georgia golfers to come down to Waycross for their tournament starting Thursday with a pro-am . . . Richard Waters of East Lake, is scheduled to tee off at 1:44 p. m. Thursday in the National Open at Dallas, Texas. His playing partners are Pros J. C. Hardwicke, Midland, Texas, and Art Wall Jr., the old Duke hole-in-oner from Pocono Manor, Pa. . . . Matt Warren of Savannah and Walker Inman are Georgia's other representatives in the Open.

Civitan, Kiwanis Win in Little Loop

Civitan defeated Civic, 8-7, in a Buckhead Little League game Monday afternoon. Paul Marklers homered and Lynn Gorman got two hits for the winners, while Jerry Martin and Steve Shoemaker each racked two blows for Civic.

Kiwanis downed Rotary, 6-5, in another loop fray. Jack Spivey and Ray Utsey totalled two hits and Doug Mitchell homered for Rotary. Wilfred McCravy notched three hits, Bebe Madison two for Kiwanis.

Engineers Needed, Tech Grads Told

Chicagoan Speaks At Commencement

Engineers should enter the fields of social and economic planning, David W. Harris of Chicago, president of Universal Oil Products Co., told graduates of Georgia Institute of Technology Monday at commencement exercises in the Fox Theater.

David W. Harris

With minds disciplined by technical training, engineers are well equipped to apply scientific thinking to the wide range of problems engendered by technical advances, Harris said.

"The scientific method could offer as successful a solution to our economic and social problems as it has for our technical problems," Harris commented.

ALUMNUS REWARDED

While two-thirds of Tech's 1,031 graduates watched, Howard Tellef Tellepsen, '34, of Houston, Texas, was awarded the alumni distinguished service award. Tellepsen is president of the Tellepsen Construction Co. of Houston and a leader in civic and church organizations.

William Rex Howard of Atlanta had the highest scholastic average in the class—3.9, one-tenth below perfect average of 4.0.

Commencement Speaker Harris, son of Nathaniel Harris, founder of Tech and governor of Georgia from 1915 to 1917, pointed to an anticipated demand for 27,000 engineers by 1954, but cautioned against possibility of an "economic upheaval" which might destroy all that engineers have helped to build.

"The application of your trained minds to the broader fields of our social and economic difficulties will do much to guarantee a continuation of the American way, wherein is provided an atmosphere of free choices for our young men and women, and where no limitation is placed on opportunity. This way must be preserved at all costs," Harris told the fledgling engineers.

Degrees were conferred by Tech President Blake Van Leer. Price Gilbert Jr., president of the Tech national alumni association, inducted the new graduates into the association.

Talmadge Ill, Cancels Trip

Mrs. Herman Talmadge represented Georgia at a formal dinner in Washington, D. C., Monday night but Governor Talmadge, who was scheduled to accompany Mrs. Talmadge, had to cancel his appearance because of illness.

The governor's aides reported he is confined to his Lovejoy farm suffering from an intestinal disorder. They said the illness is not reported as serious.

Talmadge was scheduled to speak at a vocational rehabilitation meeting in Savannah Monday. James S. Peters of Manchester spoke for him.

Operation Baby Lift Lands 65 'Bundles' for Britain

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—A "baby lift" Stratocruiser from New York, with a cluster of 65 tiny faces bobbing excitedly up and down at every window, smoothly touched down at London Airport tonight.

The faces belonged to children of British war bride mothers who had come to see their grandparents here. They ranged in age from 3 months to 10 years.

The mothers—42 of them—proudly ushered the kids down the gangplank and then scuttled into the customs shed.

Bringing up the rear and looking pretty distraught was the lone adult male of the party, 35-year-old Frank Braun of Philadelphia.

One of the most self-possessed passengers was 8-year-old Bruce Hadley, of Silver Springs, Md., who was traveling alone because his mother could not get time off to come with him.

Saves Baby Thought Dead

PHILADELPHIA, June 9—(INS)—A two and one-half pound baby, given up for dead and about to be sent to the city morgue, was in fair condition today thanks to the alertness of a Philadelphia policeman.

The infant girl, born at six months to Mrs. Thomas Hughes, formerly of Minersville, Pa., was declared stillborn by a doctor.

Patrolman George Mayne, called to the Hughes apartment by the heartbroken, 22-year-old father, was shown the package in which the body was wrapped. It lay on a kitchen table.

As Mayne sat at the table to write out the details, he heard scratching inside the parcel. He opened it and found the baby, weak but alive.

HONG KONG, June 9—Field Marshal Lord Alexander, British Minister of Defense, arrived here by plane today, en route to Tokyo and Korea for a firsthand look at the Korean situation. He declared Korean truce talks had been "disappointing" but expressed the view there was still a chance for an armistice.

Asked at Kaitak airfield if Britain would like to have a representative on the Panmunjom truce team, Lord Alexander said he would name one if General Clark, as UN commander, recommended it. With regard to the knotted prisoner exchange issue, he pointed out that Britain was participating in the Korean action under a UN command and added, "we are committed to a voluntary exchange."

Lord Alexander said circumstances leading to his Korean trip began with an invitation from General Clark after he sent a message congratulating the latter on his new Far East appointment. He said the idea that he should go to Korea had been well received in England and that Prime Minister Churchill thought it would be good.

Two foreign officials are accompanying Lord Alexander and his party is scheduled to leave for Tokyo tomorrow.

The defense minister said he planned to leave Tokyo June 18, returning to England via Canada.

Combat Bonus Hopes Dim for GIs in Korea

WASHINGTON, June 9—(AP)—The House armed services committee all but slammed the door today on chances for congressional approval this year of a combat bonus for GIs fighting in Korea.

Chairman Carl Vinson (Dem., Ga.) also virtually ruled out action this session on bills to set up an air force academy similar to West Point and Annapolis and to provide emergency anti-strike machinery.

He said the committee will hold its final session of the year tomorrow to give final approval to a $2,758,000,000 military construction bill. No other legislation will be considered.

The committee approved a bill today to continue $100 monthly bonuses for doctors and dentists who voluntarily enter the armed forces. The bonus does not go to physicians who are drafted.

Broadcasting School To Feature Atlantans

Alvin Gaines and Haskell Boyter of Atlanta's Radio Station WABE, will take part in a conference on Public School Broadcasting at the University of Illinois, June 15 to 25. Gaines, director of WABE, will serve as a full time consultant at the conference, first of its type ever held in America.

The Atlantans will be among representatives from 21 school systems in the United States and one Canada who were invited to study broadcasting as an aid to education in public schools.

CHRYSLER SARATOGA 6-PASSENGER SEDAN

DON'T LET YOUR WIFE DISCOVER THIS TOO LATE!

Women by the thousands are discovering in the beautiful Chrysler Saratoga the easiest "big car" of all to handle . . . the most generously comfortable to ride in . . . and the most instantly responsive to their command.

That's why we say to you . . . and your wife . . . "Come in and see for yourselves what the Saratoga does for you." And do it now, before you decide on any car . . . not later, when you may regret not having all the things you can have in a Saratoga!

Yes, it is a big car with big car power . . . a breath-taking 180 H.P. performer (the most revolutionary V-8 engine in 25 years) that answers to the touch of your toe with delightful gusto. And it doesn't call for premium fuel, either!

Does your wife think there's too much car here to handle? . . . let her try its Power Steering that does 4/5 of all the steering work and gives five times greater control on the road and when parking!

Is she safety-minded? Chrysler Power Brakes give her quicker, safer stops . . . with up to two-thirds less foot pressure. She'll appreciate Chrysler's Safety-Cushion dash panel. And in case of a blow-out, she'll have the assurance of Safety-Rim wheels that won't "throw" a tire.

How about comfort? Come, both of you, for a ride! . . . feel how those amazing Oriflow shock absorbers "liquidate" even the worst road bumps. Chair-high seats plus big, big windows let even the tiniest little lady see out properly. Doors open wide . . . and she can keep her hat on!

Here, in short, is the car beautifully designed for men and women. The liveliest, best handling car in America. The car you'll both be glad you saw first. Why not stop in today?

City, County Keep Own Tax Digests

Appraisal Delay To Cost $42,000

By MARJORY SMITH

Separate tax digests for Atlanta and Fulton County must be maintained by the new City-County Tax Office until the re-appraisal program currently under way is completed in 1954. The dual operation will cost an extra $42,000.

Fulton county commissioners received that report Monday, as they authorized a $158,000 two-year budget for installation of the new tax system and raised the annual salaries of Fulton's three tax assessors from $7,200 to $9,000.

A special tax office committee last March announced tentative plans for a single tax system, asking at that time for a $86,000 budget.

Deputy Tax Assessor Jason Tuggle told commissioners Monday the office had been unable to work out a single system prior to receiving re-appraisal figures.

The $158,000 budget approved by commissioners Monday included $42,000 for added equipment and personnel necessary to operate a dual system and an extra $30,000 not included in the original tentative budget.

County Manager A. E. Fuller said the $30,000 was tacked on "because of a late start and because there are 47,000 additional tax assessments due to subdivision growth."

Commissioners R. L. (Shorty) Doyal and Jack Thomas voted against the increased budget.

Commissioners Tom Camp and Jim Aldridge voted against the salary increases, which are retroactive to March 1 and designed to equalize salaries of city and county tax assessors.

In other actions Monday commissioners:

(1) Voted to pay one-third of cost of an underpass to eliminate the East Point railroad grade crossing that was the scene of a school bus-train wreck four weeks ago, with the other two-thirds to be shared by East Point and railroads using the crossing.

(2) Awarded a contract for the cafeteria concession in the new Fulton County Annex to S. R. (Tubby) Davis, sole bidder, who will equip the cafeteria and pay the county $265 rent per month for the first five years and $415 per month for an additional five years.

(3) Approved a $136,000 grading and turfing job for north-south and east-west landing strips at Fulton County Airport.

(4) Hired Neill Leach, secretary of the Fulton County Democratic Executive Committee, to handle the July expressway bond referendum at a salary of $750.

(5) Awarded Francis H. McKee New and Co., low bidders at $566.30, the demolition of the old Marietta Highway bridge.

HOTTER THAN TOKYO—WASHINGTON, June 9—Eikichi Araki, Japan's first post-war ambassador to the United States, is greeted by Secretary of State Acheson in the latter's office today. After the meeting, newsmen asked Araki what he considered his "first major problem." "Get the embassy air conditioned," Araki replied, and added, "Washington hotter than Tokyo." It was near 90 and humid in the capital today.

Henderson Death Term Is Reversed 3d Time

The Georgia Supreme Court Monday voided for the third time a death sentence given Clarence Henderson, a Negro sharecropper, in the "lovers lane" slaying four years ago of a Georgia Tech student at Carrollton.

Sol. Gen. Wright Lipford, of the Coweta Circuit, said: "I have not seen the opinion of the Supreme Court and as to whether the case will be further prosecuted depends on the study of that decision." Lipford had indicated previously that charges would not be dropped.

Henderson, protesting that he was innocent, was convicted three times for the 1948 slaying of Carl (Buddy) Stevens, son of a Carrollton auto dealer. The case attracted attention when the Communist Party of Georgia circulated literature protesting the first conviction.

In the third trial, Dr. Herman Jones and his assistant, George Cornett, of the old Fulton County Crime Laboratory, differed over identification of the death gun. The gun in question appeared a year after the slaying in an Atlanta pawn shop, and, officers said, was traced to Henderson.

In the latest ruling, the Supreme Court said the only additional evidence was a statement of a girl companion of Stevens that she recognized Henderson's voice as that of the killer. The court held her testimony was only an opinion and insufficient identification under the law.

The girl, now 25 and married, testified that Stevens was bludgeoned and shot to death while attempting to protect her from a rape attack.

In another opinion, the Supreme Court said that a Superior Court can grant temporary alimony while jurisdiction of a divorce case is being threshed out.

The opinion affirmed a Bibb County Superior Court holding that Henry McArthur Hagan was in contempt for failure to pay $825 in alimony.

The alimony was awarded Mrs. Erma Erwin Hagan who filed a divorce suit in Bibb Superior Court and was awarded temporary alimony. The husband claimed he was a resident of Glynn County and both the trial judge and the Supreme Court agreed that the Bibb Superior Court was without jurisdiction in the case.

The Supreme Court said today, however, that the Bibb court was authorized to allow the temporary alimony while the case was pending.

Sheriff Gay Acquitted of Intimidation

DUBLIN, June 9—(AP)—A U. S. District Court jury deliberated less than 10 minutes today before acquitting Laurens County Sheriff Carlus Gay of a charge that he intimidated a Federal witness, Macon attorney Thomas W. Johnson.

The trial opened before Judge Frank M. Scarlett at 9:30 a. m. and the case was handed to the jury about 3:25 p. m. At 3:33 p. m. the jury filed back into the courtroom with a verdict for acquittal.

The first witness for the government was Curtis E. Johnson, an investigator for the U. S. Senate labor-management relations subcommittee before which the Macon lawyer and Gay testified in Washington last August. He said attorney Johnson had appeared before the group under subpoena.

Attorney Johnson then took the stand and related that Gay had beat him while he was in the sheriff's office checking on peace warrants in the interest of clients.

Johnson said Gay "hit me 20 or 25 times" and kicked him after knocking him to the floor.

Under cross-examination by defense counsel Carl K. Nelson, the Macon attorney denied he had made any threat to Gay about testifying against him before the Senate committee.

The sheriff testified Johnson struck him while he was trying to get the attorney out of his office. Gay said he retaliated by slapping Johnson a couple of times and then hit him one time in the stomach with his fist.

In the closing arguments defense attorneys Rufus I. Stephens and Lester S. Watson contended the suit should have been tried in recorder's court instead of Federal court because Gay had removed his badge and gun before the fight began.

Bench Pension Opposition Is Indicated

Two Fulton County commissioners hinted strongly Monday that they oppose reported plans to qualify two former judges of Fulton Civil Court for pensions through brief interim appointments.

Fulton County Commissioners R. L. (Shorty) Doyal and Jack Towns voted against a winning motion to deduct and pay into the pension fund five per cent of the salary of Judge T. O. Hathcock, appointed by Governor Talmadge May 12 to fill the vacancy created by death of Fulton Criminal Court Judge Ralph McClelland.

Request for the deduction for the pension fund came from Judge Hathcock. Announcing his appointment, Governor Talmadge had stated Judge Hathcock would serve for a short time, then be replaced by another former judge, Luther Rosser. Both men, defeated before the pension act was passed, reportedly will attempt to obtain pensions. Both were in office for 20 continuous years previously, as required by the pension act.

Doyal and Towns Monday consulted County Atty. Harold Sheats before voting on the motion to deduct from Judge Hathcock's salary. Sheats told the full board: "If he remains for 20 years following this May, 1952, appointment, Judge Hathcock will be eligible for a pension. In my opinion, he won't be eligible otherwise."

Atlantan Faces Molesting Charge

A 30-year-old white man, identified by police as Wofford Payne, of an Old Bolton Rd., N. W. address, Monday was bound over to Fulton County grand jury on charges of molesting minor girls, municipal court records showed.

Vice Squad detectives J. H. Barnes and N. W. Smith said Payne admitted following small girls from seat to seat in several theaters. He also was identified by parents who watched him from the rear of the theaters, the officers said.

Peachtree Bridge Due For Repair

By ALBERT RILEY

Immediate repair work has been ordered to prevent the destruction of one of the most heavily traveled bridges in Atlanta—the Peachtree Road bridge over Peachtree Creek.

Engineers have known since the bridge came into Atlanta's expanded city limits last Jan. 1, that the structure needed repairs, but Mayor Hartsfield disclosed Monday that the bridge is in worse condition than at first supposed.

The City Construction Department said the bridge already has been propped up with steel columns so that it is safe for continued use. But the department will begin work within a week to replace a sagging center pier of the bridge with a new steel and concrete pier. Cost of the work is estimated at $35,000. Traffic will not be interrupted during the work.

A construction department official said the concrete bridge has been in service since 1907. It is the third bridge on record over Peachtree Creek at that point. An early wooden bridge was replaced by a steel span in 1896 and then by the present structure.

The Peachtree Creek area was the scene of heavy fighting during the War Between the States siege of Atlanta.

Low Bidders Picked

MacDougald-Warren, Inc., was apparent low bidder Monday with a bid of $51,636 for resurfacing Memorial Drive from Capitol Ave. to Moreland Ave. An apparent low bid of $21,705 was submitted by Stewart Brothers for resurfacing Decatur St. from Peachtree St. to Yonge St.

The purchasing committee of City Council opened bids for the two resurfacing projects and several smaller paving jobs and referred them to the Construction Department for tabulation.

The other projects and apparent low bidders were: Carver Circle, N. W., from Tiger Flowers' Drive to the end of the street, $4,676 bid by Sam Finley, Inc.; Mocking Bird Lane, S. W., from Sewell Rd. to Tuckawanna Drive, $15,862 by McIntosh Paving Co., Inc.; Garibaldi St., S. W., from Mary St. to Gardner St., $3,392 by McIntosh; Branham St., N. E., 350 feet south from Delano Drive, $3,916 by Finley; Edwin St., N. W., from Edwin Place to Newman Place, $3,983 by McIntosh; Williams Street, from end of pavement north of 14th Street to 16th Street, $11,133 by MacDougald-Warren.

Two Bids Approved

The purchasing committee of council approved a low bid of $2,444 from the Downtown Chevrolet Company for two one-half-ton pickup trucks for the Sanitary Department.

A bid of $5,000 for 20,000 King road markers was tentatively approved for purchase by the Traffic Engineering Department.

The committee referred bids on winter police uniforms to the Police Department and deferred action on bids to install acoustical treatment for audio-visual equipment rooms at the municipal library.

Bogus Cash, Rum Cases

TAMPA, Fla., June 9—(AP)—Finise E. Longwell, Lakeland, already involved in federal counterfeiting and state liquor cases, was bound to federal court on a bootlegging charge today. Longwell is serving two years in Polk County jail in four liquor cases and has others pending against him there.

State HDC Meet Opens In Athens

More than 500 outstanding Georgia farm women and home demonstration agents were officially welcomed by Dr. C. C. Murray, Dean of Agriculture, as they began their annual State Home Demonstration Council meeting in Athens Monday.

The key to the week long meeting is how to work toward the future with faith, hope and courage. The general session in Pound Auditorium Tuesday is to include all phases of the world problem.

FOREIGN STUDENT PLANS

Miss Elizabeth Powell will discuss the visitation plan for foreign students; Miss Delores Artau is slated to explain the council of foreign students.

Miss Rhonwyn Lowry is describing her stay in Denmark last summer as an International Exchange Farm Youth Delegate and Dr. Mildred Thompson will summarize the United Nations Work.

An unusual feature of the program will be the report Miss Mena Hogan, U. S. Department of Agriculture gives on her travels through foreign countries where she observed home economics and home demonstration work.

Tuesday night talented women attending the meeting will present living pictures. These are the real life interpretations of the famous pictures so frequently found in Georgia homes.

SET FUTURE PROGRAM

All through the week there will be subject matter groups, meeting to discuss ideas and programs for the year ahead.

Thursday is traditionally a big day to these women leaders. Twice during the day the chorus made up of the musical delegates from each county will stage "sings." Thursday night over 100 women will participate in the dress review. One champion from each county in Georgia will compete for the state winner title. The top winners will be on WSB-TV program.

Mrs. Wilbur Timmerman, Dawson, is the president of the state Home Demonstration Council and Miss Lurline Collier, state home demonstration agent, is presiding at the meetings held on the Coordinate College campus.

MRS. ARTHUR HEYMAN II
Weds at Club

Miss Weil Weds in Tennessee

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 9—The Woodmont Country Club here formed the setting for the marriage Monday evening of Miss Elsye Harriet Weil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon S. Weil, to Arthur Heyman II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heyman of Atlanta. Rabbi William Silverman officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her grandmother's wedding gown of ivory satin and heirloom lace, embroidered in seed pearls. Her full-length veil cascaded from a heart-shaped cap of heirloom lace and orange blossoms. The bride carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

Mrs. Bennett Garner of Atlanta was matron of honor for her sister. Miss Elinor Heyman of Atlanta and Mrs. James Brown of Nashville were bridesmaids. They wore changeable gowns of blue and lilac silk organza and carried bouquets of gloriosa lilies.

Lyons Heyman of Rome, Ga., was best man. Serving as groomsmen were Dr. Bennett Garner, Alfred Revson Jr., Lyons Joel Jr., all of Atlanta, Gus Kuhn Jr. and Jack Kuhn of Nashville.

A dinner followed the ceremony with Mr. and Mrs. Weil as hosts.

The bridal couple left for a honeymoon in Nassau. They will reside at 3619 Ivy Rd., N. E., Atlanta.

Mrs. Maffett Is KAT Delegate

Mrs. Herbert S. Maffett, president of the Atlanta Alumnae Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta, will attend the national convention of the college sorority, June 25 to June 30, at Sun Valley, Idaho.

Before returning to her Atlanta home, 2364 Adina Dr., N. E., Mrs. Maffett will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Young, in Minneapolis.

Be Your Own Connoisseur

Feminine Influence Guides Hobby Group

By ANNIE LOU HARDY

Feminine influence is inescapable.

The love of a maid fires a man with his first ambition, the fruit of which is apt to keep his nose to the grindstone from that day forth.

Eventually, however, he approaches retirement age and decides he should have a hobby. Something like fishing or golf perhaps.

Instead he weaves rugs. He grows orchids. He builds furniture. Yes, for the little woman.

"What else could I do," said J. H. Warner Jr., telephone company auditing supervisor, "when I was always mired up in the wool of my wife's hooked rugs. I took up rug weaving in self-defense."

MADE 12 RUGS

In the two years that Mr. Warner has spent his spare time pursuing this hobby he has made a dozen and a half rugs which cover his own floors and those of his friends.

Likewise G. F. Goode, telephone company engineer, whose wife has a hankering for orchids, took up the growing of the exotic blossoms.

HAS 500 ORCHIDS

With 500 plants as a goal and the blooms selling at $3 each, Mr. Goode anticipates a substantial income in time, to say nothing of all the orchids Mrs. Goode can use.

Salvaging some of the switchboard mahogany when the old Hemlock exchange was closed, safety supervisor R. H. Wolcott soon found himself with a fascinating occupation.

First he made a telephone table and stool from the beautiful wood. During his Christmas holiday he fashioned a cigaret box and then he made a bedside table for his wife.

12 KINDS OF WOOD

By this time Mr. Wolcott had become so engrossed in furniture-making he figured he should have a work bench. The result is an 80-inch job built of 12 different kinds of wood put together with more than 600 screws.

Hobbies are not exclusively a male right at the telephone company, however. Feminine employees also go in for a variety of spare time fun, as evidenced at the hobby show held at the Biltmore.

Mrs. Joyce Stead rather drifted into ceramics because her sister, an artist, had a studio complete with kiln in their basement.

Out of a mixture of clay and Stone Mountain granite (which gives a lovely mottled effect) she fashions ash trays, pots, vases and figurines, most of which go as gifts to her friends.

DOES PORTRAITS

Mrs. Alice Baken sews a fine seam, fashioning everything from ravishing evening frocks to a gentleman's sports coat of imported tweed that would do credit to a Bond Street tailor.

J. C. Singleton spends his time in photography. Mrs. Pearl Key and H. M. Daniel win blue ribbons with their hand-painted china. Woodfin Jones paints realistically in oils. Dorothea Goodwin fashions dolls from paper napkins. Annie Claude Wynn concocts old-fashioned rose jars from an heirloom recipe.

But whether the articles are the product of male or female ingenunity, practically all are designed for feminine use and pleasure.

Couple To Sail To Europe

Miss Myrtle Claire Srochi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Akron D. Srochi, was married to Jacob Levin, son of Mrs. Morris Levin and the late Mr. Levin of Lorain, Ohio, at a high noon ceremony on Monday at the Srochi home on Springdale Rd. Rabbi Harry H. Epstein officiated.

Afterwards Mr. and Mrs. Srochi were hosts at a wedding breakfast at the Mayfair Club.

Albert A. Levin of Cleveland, Ohio, was best man, and groomsmen included Wilbert Levin, Robert Levin all of Cleveland, Ohio; Arnold Levin of Lorain; Morton Srochi and Stanley Srochi.

Mrs. Adair D. Fine was matron of honor, and serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Morton Srochi, Mrs. Bernard Smith, Mrs. Jerome Zimmerman, Mrs. Bernard Howard, Miss Robyn Srochi, all of Atlanta; Miss Gertrude Levin and Miss Ruth Levin of Lorain, Ohio.

The bride's small nieces, Darriel and Lenel Srochi, were flower girls.

The bride wore white embroidered Swiss organdy and an illusion veil which cascaded from a cap of organdy. Her only ornament was a diamond bracelet given her by her mother.

Mr. Levin and his bride will sail Wednesday on the Liberte for a European honeymoon. They will return Sept. 15 and will reside in Lorain, Ohio.

MARY HAWORTH

Unfriendly Co-worker Offends Timid Girl

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My father was courtesy personified. He was virtuous, attractive and never let wife or daughters enter a room without rising to offer them chairs. He won hearts by his good example but never tried to impose his views. I remained in this sheltered atmosphere for many years, and only recently have I had to get out into the world on my own.

Timid soul that I am, it happens that I am the only woman in a group of apprentices. The men are intent on their work and pay no attention to me which I pretend not to mind.

But I nearly die of embarrassment at times when I have to lug a heavy chair down the aisle, and no one offers help, nor gives an encouraging smile.

I feel a real loss of self-respect as a woman then while the men look the other way or seem preoccupied. A. N.

DEAR A. N.: It occurs to me that the men you describe are definitely conscious of your timid gentility, but stiffly determined to make no concessions to it for fear of being labeled sucker or sissy in their own minds, or in the opinion of their fellow rules.

In my experience, the average Joe in the business world is a friendly fellow in dealing with women coworkers.

But very few men fetch-and-carry for women on the staff. Rather they expect the woman in business to take care of herself and carry her own load of whatever kind, and to do it without whimpering—else she doesn't belong there, they feel.

Just as your father's fine example won people to his views, so you may teach courtesy to these chaps also, who probably never encountered fine manners before. M. H.

Bobby Brays Plan Home in Atlanta

The welcome mat is out for Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Bray who arrived from New York Sunday to make their home in Atlanta. While house hunting, they are guests at the Juniper St. home of Mr. Bray's mother, Mrs. Sims Bray, who hurried home from Savannah to welcome her son and his wife.

Mrs. Bobby Bray, who before her marriage in November was Eugenia Kilpatrick of New York, is well known in Atlanta, having often visited her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Oglesby, on Andrews Dr. Her mother is the former Eugenia Oglesby of Atlanta.

WITH HOT DAYS AHEAD, Atlantans are making plans to seek cooler climes. Mrs. Whitman McGonigal and Miss Mary Herring have taken the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alison Thornwell at Highlands, N. C., for the month of July. Miss Herring, an attractive newcomer, recently arrived from New York to make Atlanta her home.

ANOTHER ATLANTAN headed for Highlands is Mrs. Charles E. Sciple who leaves July 1 to spend the remainder of the summer there.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN W. LEE and their daughters, Misses Dena and Helen Lee, have opened their home for the summer at Tate Mountain Estates.

ARRIVING ON SUNDAY was Mrs. William B. Williford of Macon who joined her husband to reside at 1410 Peachtree St. Mrs. Williford is the former Amelia Brumby of Macon. She was a Phi Mu at the University of Georgia and belongs to the Macon Junior League.

THE DAUGHTER born May 28 at Crawford Long Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith Jr. has been named Beverly Joyce. Mrs. Smith is the former Eleanor Evankovech of Syracuse, N. Y.

ATTRACTIVE VISITORS in the city are Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Johnson Jr. and their small daughter, Jennifer Ann of Evansville, Ind., who are guests of Dr. and Mrs. Earl Floyd on Muscogee Ave. Mrs. Johnson is the former Ann Lovick Floyd of Atlanta.

MISS LOY ANN LEE and Miss Bettie Entrekin are home after a vacation at Daytona Beach.

CHARLOTTE VISITORS here are Mrs. Lowry Davis and small daughters, Frances and Betsy, who are guests of Mrs. Edward Davis on Parkside Dr.

AFTER A TOUR of England and the continent, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ringel have returned to their home on Peachtree Battle Avenue.

MR. AND MRS. RALPH Maultsby have returned from a Caribbean cruise during which they visited Cuba and Honduras.

AFTER A 10-DAY VISIT to her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Max Smith on Shenandoah Dr., Mrs. James Bonner has returned to New Orleans.

BACK FROM A TWO-WEEK vacation in Florida is Mrs. Clifford Pierson. She visited Miami Beach, Coral Gables and Hollywood.

Confederate Children Elect Head

DUBLIN, Ga., June 9—(AP)—State Children of the Confederacy closed a two-day convention by electing Miss Anzlette Wooten of Jonesboro, president.

Two Dublin young people were made officers. Charles Hicks Jr. is first vice-president and Miss Judy Hobbs, editor.

The Adeline Baum chapter of Dublin, host club, received five cups for the best work done by a chapter in a city of less than 15,000 population.

The Dublin club received the founder's cup given by the Atlanta Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, for greatest number of members at meetings; a cup for work done for confederate veterans.

The Elmo Adams Trophy for contributing the most money to the Norman D. Randolph Fund for Confederate women; the Mrs. Belmont Dennis cup for most outstanding work done for Confederate widows.

Mrs. Hiller Gammage of Moultrie, state director of the Children of the Confederacy, was in charge.

CHILDREN NEED SIMPLE UN-GUMMED UP REARING

Don't Overdo Child Psychology on Your Offspring, Doctor Warns

MARCIA WINN

Watch Psychology, Doctor Tells Patients

It was manna from heaven the other day to run across a plea to psychoanalysts by Benjamin Spock, the noted and sensible pediatrician, to let up on mothers. Stop making mothers feel so "guilty," Dr. Spock begged the learned ones. Help them feel "more easy" in bringing up children.

To gum up parents by teaching them a smattering about such feelings as repression and rejection, he said, was all wrong. If it did anything, it only made them self-conscious in dealing with children.

Far from giving them the case they needed, it made them tense and overly anxious to analyze and interpret every feeling they or their children had.

The more that parents know about the principles of mental health, he pointed out, the more "complicated and unspontaneous" the process of rearing children may become.

What children need more than anything else is simple, ungummed-up rearing. They need spontaneity — spontaneous love, spontaneous discipline, an unanalyzed, spur of the moment spank followed by an unanalyzed, spur of the moment kiss. They need basic simplicities.

"Did we," Spock asked the American Psychoanalytic association, "by learning psychiatric and psychoanalytic principles, find the job of being a parent easier? I would say emphatically, 'no!' "

Now there are a lot of things parents do naturally. "Can I wear my patent leather slippers to school today?" "No," comes the natural response. "Why?"

You can here go into a long harangue about they're not suitable for school, they're your party shoes, the soles are too thin, etc., and be met with a wailing, "but I want to! Wendy does!" "But I don't want you to," should suffice.

But should you, dare you, can you afford to be merely a mother and set out firm rules because you are larger and presumably have a larger accrual of wisdom? Do mothers know what is best? You don't dare. She wears the p. j. slippers.

Every normal mother wants to do the "right" thing by little Willie. She wants to do it because she loves him, of course.

She doesn't sit around mooning armed with a handful of garbled knowledge — much of which, if the truth were known, is not scientific but a mere searching; an infant industry making a lot of noise—accusing herself, reversing her stands, and doing the same thing worse the next time.

Take away the books, please. We'll take the rocking chair, the snuggling lap, the kiss, and when occasion merits it; the firm stand any time.

Red Cross Opens Parents' Class

A free Red Cross class for mothers-to-be and fathers-to-be will begin at 7 p. m. Monday, June 16, at Red Cross Headquarters, 848 Peachtree St., N. E.

The class will meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7 to 9 p. m. Techniques for handling, feeding, bathing and diapering the new baby will be taught.

A daytime class for mothers-to-be will begin at 2 p. m. Monday. Registration should be made by phoning AT. 1601.

Accountants to Install

The American Society of Women Accountants will have a dinner at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Atlanta Athletic Club. New officers to be installed are Miss Margaret Campbell, president; Miss Dorothy Gunn, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Turner, treasurer, and Miss Ruth Crawford, secretary.

Grandmothers Club

Mrs. R. A. Long will address the Atlanta Grandmothers Club at a meeting, 2 p. m. Wednesday, June 18.

Mrs. E. D. Adams, 773 Ponce de Leon Pl., N. E., will be hostess.

"Having read about other men who plan for the future well-being of their families, I had been wondering exactly how they managed. How did they fix things so that their wives would be protected if they ran into business troubles? So that there would be no question about their children going to college? So that their parents would have a comfortable old age?"

The plan he discovered—the one a great many people have found to be the simplest and soundest—is the trust. The trust plan may be used for almost any purpose—your child's education, your wife's protection, your favorite charity, or your own needs for eventual retirement.

"Even then, I wasn't sure the plan was practical for me. I felt that trusts might be for millionaires."

On the contrary, even a small amount can have the advantages of a trust. Our Common Trust Fund enables a number of smaller trusts to be joined in one over-all fund for investment purposes. Instead of owning securities in just a few companies in a few industries, your trust owns a fraction of the securities of many companies in many industries. You get all the advantages of diversification.

The Trust Company of Georgia's own staff of investment analysts supplement their experience with factual data from sources throughout the nation. They manage the trust for you. The only charge is the modest fee for handling the trust account itself. And there's no need to tie up your money, for you can so arrange your trust that it can be changed at any time. Won't you ask either your attorney or us about this method of providing for those whose future depends on you?

Guides to Good Food For World Travelers

By AGNES REASOR OLMSTEAD

With Europe luring Atlantans in great numbers, there's much discussion of where to go, what to see, where to eat.

Since sailings leave from New York, everyone plans a few days of sight-seeing there.

If we know tourists, eating becomes a major occupation as well as a major problem. As if book publishers were psychic, two books are just off the press with suggestions of where to eat in Paris and where to eat in New York.

"Paris Cuisine," by James Beard and Alexander Watt (Little, Brown and Co. $5.00) is basically a collection of recipes from the chefs for "the specialties de la maison."

FUN WITH FOODS

Sixty of the best restaurants from Maxims to the humble bistros are described in this valuable guide for those who plan to dine in Paris.

The place that we want to visit is the Sylvain for the specialty there is "Queue de Boeuf Farcie," that's "stuffed ox tail," in English. The first line of the recipe says "have oxtail boned by your butcher. Be certain he doesn't pierce flesh during the process."

To us who have done a stint in the meat industry, that's a major accomplishment. How can you bone an oxtail which is just about all bone to start with. And as for asking your Atlanta meat man to do it for you . . . don't. Quite a recipe, but obviously just for the French.

THE NEW YORK Cook Book by Maria Lo Pinto (A. A. Wynn $3.00) helps one to take an epicurean's trip around the world in little ol' New York.

While this, too, is a recipe book, the guide to the restaurants should be very fine for the novice in this big city. The name, address, nationality, specialties and price range are all listed. Restaurants, from the one owned by the Mayor of Chinatown to the plush Waldorf, are given in handy reference form.

WHEN FAMILY MEALS move out to the porch or yard, chop suey or chow mein makes an easy-to-serve, easy-to-eat main dish. Prepare it in the morning ready for reheating at dinnertime. Serve the plates in the kitchen and you've a meal with no trouble.

CHOW MEIN ON NOODLES

3 tablespoons shortening
1 pound lean pork, cut in 1-inch strips
¾ pound lean beef, cut in 1-inch strips
1½ cups water
¼ cup soy sauce
2 cups diced celery
½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup water
1 No. 2 can bean sprouts, drained
1 3-ounce can sliced mushrooms
Salt and pepper
3 quarts boiling salted water
8 ounces egg noodles

Melt shortening in heavy frying pan. Add meats and brown over low heat. Add the 1½ cups water and soy sauce; cook 2 minutes. Add celery and onion. Cover tightly and cook over low heat 1 to 1½ hours or until meat is tender.

Blend cornstarch with ¼ cup water. Stir into meat mixture. Add bean sprouts and undrained mushrooms. If mixture is thick, add a little more water. Season to taste and heat thoroughly. Serve on hot noodles.

To cook noodles, add them gradually to the rapidly boiling water. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Rath Black Hawk
Happy hunting ground for low-cost meals!

These are your happy hunting days—the days when it pays to stock your shelves with the best-tasting meats that ever came out of a thrifty can! Folks who are fussy about flavor know the Rath Black Hawk label is the label to look for. It means meats with that extra fine corn-fed flavor—meats that come from right around Iowa's famed Black Hawk County. They go so far, too—for Rath Black Hawk Canned Meats have no bone, no waste. If you want a good way to save, take home Rath's!

Luncheon Meat Smack Stacks. Delicious way to serve that licking luscious Rath Black Hawk Luncheon Meat! Alternate slices of the meat with slices of canned sweet potato and pineapple. Drench with pineapple juice and bake 30 minutes in 400° oven. There's no luncheon meat like this good Rath corn-fed kind from the "meat hearty" heart of corn land. Sweet—fork-tender—bursting with flavor!

Sassy Sausages are a right bright idea for breakfast! Top buttered toast with apple sauce and Rath Black Hawk Breakfast Sausages. Broil till sausages brown. M-m-m-m! Rath's Sausages are deluxe eating—all Iowa corn-fed pork. 9 to 12 plump links to each can. Ready-cooked—just brown.

Wife Sets Own Diet Schedule

By IDA JEAN KAIN

If you can spare a minute, homemakers, now that you finally have a chance at the newspapers, I'd like to pass along a letter telling how one homemaker manages to eat to beat the pounds.

This writer is a mother of three children.

"I have been very happy with your Will Power Building Diet. You asked for suggestions, so I want to pass along a few helps that have really made dieting easier for me.

"I solved my own personal food problem by freezing enough chuck patties and chops to last one week. Leftover vegetables I keep in custard cups on a tray with my own bar of butter

My family has dinner first and I serve them while my potato is baking and my meat broiling. When I sit down and relish my meal . . . it's really a pleasure because there's no hopping up from the table and no gulping food so dessert can be served.

JUST WHO ARE YOU? The same young lady, it seems, can turn from a patrician beauty to a gamin, to a sophisticate, merely by rearranging her crowning glory. This is the theory of hair stylist Ingerid of New York. She believes your personality depends a lot on the way you wear your hair, and she feels any woman has at least three different styles which are becoming. Left, the patrician beauty, with softly flowing hair swept back from a smooth brow; center, the gamin with a carefully casual hairdo; and the sophisticate, with hair waved loosely away from the face and swept into a swirled chignon.

Miss Hardage Repeats Vows

MARIETTA, June 9—Miss June Hardage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hardage, and John Y. Yancey were married with the Rev. Hary K. Holland as the officiant.

Guests were seated by J. A. Sprayberry, Donald A. Rummel, Charles Thomas and Charles Shelton, all of Dobbins Air Force Base. James Yancey was best man.

Miss Joanne Hall was maid of honor. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white suit with navy accessories, and carried a Bible adorned with white orchids.

Your Stars Today

Daily Guide—This is likely to be one of those days in which all kinds of different things come along to distract you from your main purpose. There is much of this and that to take up your time and attention, so if you really have to accomplish something you will have to make an effort to concentrate, especially if your birthday falls in the first three weeks of January.

Happy Birthday, Gemini! Patience is not one of your virtues, so about now you will be ready to fling caution to the winds and act, but you are so quick you must guard against speed without judgment. If you act with unselfish motives and allow the inspiration of this period to guide you, much can be accomplished.

Prather Twins Mark 90 Years

Before Washington Seminary reared its cultured head on Peachtree St., Atlanta's fashionable young ladies attended the Prather Home School on West Peachtree.

Directors of the school were the Prather twins, Misses Eva and Emily Prather.

On Saturday the sisters were 90 years old. In celebration of the auspicious occasion, 25 of their former students led by Mrs. Pearl Peck Shoup and Mrs. Nellie Nix Edwards gathered at their home in Decatur with flowers and refreshments for a gala surprise birthday party.

Transform With Collar

Add two dresses to her wardrobe! Sew only one! This princess sundress for your hard-playing little pet becomes an angelic Sunday frock in a jiffy. Just button on that frilly collar. Pattern for bonnet too!

Pattern 4762: Children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, 10. Size 6 frock, 1⅝ yards 35-inch; ¾ yard contrast; bonnet, ½ yard; ½ yard contrast.

Send 30 cents in coins for this pattern to The Atlanta Constitution, Pattern Department, P. O. Box 133, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address, zone; size, style number.

GSCW Alumnae

Miss Mary Julia Fillingim will head Georgia State College for Women Alumnae, Group 1, during 1953.

The new slate includes Mrs. L. V. Ware, first vice-president; Miss Louise Byram, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. W. Pearce, recording secretary, and Mrs. Ruth Villenave, treasurer.

The Biggest PLUS in Cream History!

Doctors Confirm That Hormones Are Effectively Absorbed by Skin Through Application

Turtle Oil, originally discovered by South American natives, has long been recognized as an amazingly effective skin-firming agent.

MME. EUGENIE

Our chemists, skin specialists, blend 7,500 units of Estrogenic Hormones with Turtle Oil and Lanolin in a most effective Beauty Ointment.

30-Day Tests show immediate and thrilling results for women of all ages and men, too, in cases of double chin, premature wrinkling, crepey throat, age and eye lines, to recapture youthful glow, help revitalize skin, firm sagging muscles. We recommend it as the equivalent of high-priced, advertised creams.

Cotton Futures Close Higher

NEW YORK, June 9—(AP)—Cotton futures closed 25 cents to $1.85 a bale higher. Strength in old crop July futures featured the trading and lent support to the balance of the market. July at one time was $3.25 a bale higher, but prices weakened toward the close at liquidation and profit-taking increased.

The recent improvement in the demand for cotton goods coupled with tight remaining supplies of good quality accounted for the up turn in July. Leading spot firms appeared to be liquidating futures as they purchased spot cotton. A leading firm sold about 8,000 bales of nearby October contracts.

Some of the demand for new crop futures was attributed to mill buying against part of their new crop cotton needs. Ideas that United States exports will be lower next season were stregnthened as officials of the National Cotton Council said that India may cut imports of cotton from the United States sharply because of depressed textile conditions.

Sugar Futures

NEW YORK, June 9—(AP)—World sugar futures were irregular today in slow trading. World raws were quoted at 4.15 cents a pound FOB Cuba. It was established that Belgium last week bought a cargo of Cubas at that level.

Domestic sugar futures were steady.

The raw market was firm, but there were no definite offerings. Refiner buying interest was placed at 6.37 to 6.40 cents a pound delivered. The last price paid was 6.40 cents late Friday which equaled the high of the year.

Demand for refined sugar was a good deal better. Dealers attributed it to seasonally warm weather and a renewed uptrend in the sugar price structure.

BUSINESS NEWS

South's Vast Resources Are Being Put to Work

Sharp Gains in Past Decade Reported by Commerce Dept.

By ALEX JOINER

"Them as has, gits," the Chicago businessman opined.

It was his first trip South in 10 years and he was amazed at what he saw: "One big plant after another and roads crowded with trucks and late model automobiles."

Ten years ago, as the visitor suggested, the region "had" vast resources, power and potential working forces, but had just begun to put them to work.

Advances since then have been just as phenomenal as they appeared to the outsider. The gains are strikingly pointed up in a special 10-year progress report just issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

The report shows that salaries and wages paid in manufacturing industries in seven Southeastern states have risen from $847,155,000 to $3,491,129,000—an increase of 312 per cent.

SEVEN-STATE SURVEY

Figures in the report cover the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Tennessee and the Carolinas.

In addition to the almost unbelievable increase in wages and salaries in the manufacturing field, the number of employees rose from 895,280 to 1,469,909 and the value of goods produced in Southeastern plants from $1,746,008,000 to $6,867,545,000, a gain of 293 per cent.

Bank deposits have skyrocketed from $3,236,400,000 to $10,135,479,000, or 213 per cent; retail sales from $3,529,595,000 to $14,141,698,000, or 300 per cent; and wholesale sales from $3,960,960,000 to $15,620,080,000, or 294 per cent.

The number of businesses mushroomed from 276,000 to 409,500.

RECORD LIFE INSURANCE

Life insurance in force reached a record height of $18,954,658,000 from a total of $7,716,508,000 10 years ago, a gain of 145 per cent, and internal revenue collections hit a high point of $3,535,938,100 after collections of $602,523,000 at the start of the decade, a 486 per cent increase.

Motor vehicle registrations were 61 per cent higher, increasing from 3,427,194 to 5,545,764 and new construction was up 157 per cent, from a total of $795,100,000 to $2,044,400,000. Construction contracts awarded jumped 215 per cent, from $238,404,000 to $750,112,000.

Population of the seven-state area increased from 18,425,162 to 20,927,214, or 13 per cent.

And what's most important they had more money. Income payments to individuals increased 244 per cent—from $5,696,000,000 to $19,624,000,000—to raise per capita income 196 per cent, from $311 to $922.

State Bankers Open Meeting At Emory Today

Georgia bankers gather at Emory University Tuesday for the three-day 1952 Georgia Bankers Study Conference.

Sessions start at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday with a welcome address by Freeman Strickland, president of the Georgia Bankers Association and vice-president of the First National Bank of Atlanta.

Speakers for the meeting include Philip H. Alston, Atlanta attorney; Frank E. Taylor Jr., vice-president, Fulton National Bank; Lloyd E. Foster, Birmingham; M. M. Kimbrel, executive vice-president, First National Bank, Thomson; Malcolm Bryan, Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta president; Mills B. Jane Jr., president, Citizens & Southern National Bank, and Dean Gordon Siefkin of Emory's School of Business Administration.

Paper Executive Addresses Rotary

Increased use of kraft paper from Southern pines for packaging purposes was predicted here Monday by Arthur Harris, president of the Atlanta Paper Co.

Speaking to the Atlanta Rotary Club, Harris said the development of chain store distribution and the rapid industrialization of the South in recent years had accounted for growth of the packaging industry.

Atlanta Paper Co. sales have grown to more than $20,000,000 a year, he said.

Profit-Sales Slow Mart, Up 4th Day

Special to The Atlanta Constitution

NEW YORK, June 9—The Stock Market remained today on the higher side but with considerable obstacles in the form of profit-taking. It marked the fourth consecutive session for the averages to show increases. On balance the list rose further by 0.30 point with many issues showing additions well beyond the general rate.

Some in Wall Street felt that the present movement might well be the base of the traditional summer rally which so far has carried quotations near the March highs. But there were just as many observers who contended that the lack of public participation ruled out this claim.

STEEL SPURS

Nevertheless, the market was given further inspiration by indications from Washington that a settlement of the steel dispute might be at hand. The only other factor for consideration by market followers was the announced plans by the Federal Reserve Board for a relaxation of credit restrictions on housing under regulation "X." Building material stocks failed to respond to the news, apparently on the premise that the easier term fell short of bringing the building industry in line with credit rules on other businesses.

Business failed to expand on the Stock Exchange on the fresh rise; in fact, transfers contracted to 1,270,000 shares, against 1,520,000 shares on last Friday. Interest also narrowed to 1,091 individual issues. At the close, 526 showed additions, 289 losses with 276 unchanged.

Pennsylvania Railroad continued to attract more than the usual interest and generated a turnover of 33,700 shares to lead the list in business. Its closing quotation of 20⅛ represented a net increase of ⅜ point. New York Central, second most active issue of the session on 22,300 shares, ended unchanged. Other carriers finished irregularly higher with Rock Island and Atlantic Coast Line both raised by a point.

MOST OILS UP

Steels were all higher and fairly active, especially U. S. Steel which advanced ¼ point at 39½ on 21,300 shares. Bethlehem registered a similar net rise but under its best rating of the day. Fractional gains ruled in the other steel stocks.

Chrysler receded ⅛ point at 76⅜ and General Motors by ¼ at 55⅝. Standard Oil of New Jersey showed a turnover of 11,600 shares and a price appreciation of 1¼ points at 78½. There were some wider increases in other petroleums, but none approached the volume in the Jersey company.

Potatoes

CHICAGO, June 9—(AP)—(USDA)—Potatoes: Arrivals 123, total U. S. shipments Friday 1,152, Saturday 701, and Sunday 68; supplies light; demand active; market stronger; track sales, carlots per 100 pounds: Arizona Pontiacs $9.50; California long whites $9.15, Pontiacs $9.15-$9.50. LCL track, California long whites $9.50. Street sales: Alabama Triumphs and long whites $8.50; Arizona Triumphs $10. California long whites $8.50-$10, Pontiacs $9.75.

Soybeans, Rye Lead Advance

CHICAGO, June 9—(AP)—All grains turned firm after a hesitant opening on the Board of Trade Monday. Rye and old crop soybeans set the pace as the market renewed the active, strong trade of late last week.

Even wheat firmed in today's session, which contrasted with its easiness of last week. Corn became quite strong with distant deliveries up around 3 cents at times. Oats had much smaller gains.

Belief that Tuesday's government crop report will reduce the rye estimate, an advance in bean oil prices, a pick-up in demand for cash corn from Eastern sources and rather light hedging pressure in wheat combined to help the price structure.

Wheat closed ½-1¼ higher, July $2.33; corn 2⅜-3⅜ higher, July $1.84⅝-$1.84½; oats ⅞-1 ⅛ higher, July 77¼; rye 4¾-6¼ higher, July $2.15-$2.15¼; soybeans ½-3¼ higher, July $3.25, and lard 15 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.27.

Lower Down Payments Set For Residential Housing

By RICHARD E. MOONEY

WASHINGTON, June 9—(UP)—The government today lowered down payment requirements on all new homes, effective Wednesday, in a move which gives the biggest break to persons looking for houses in the lowest and highest price ranges.

Builders and realtors across the country warned immediately, however, that there would be little or no change in the housing market. A Detroit builder of low-priced homes said that "banks, not the government" set down payment minimums and that credit is tight.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency and the Federal Reserve Board relaxed Regulation X as it applied to all types of residential housing from one-family houses to apartment units. The Farmers Home Administration will take similar action on farm housing.

The smallest cuts in down payments were made on homes selling in the middle-price field—from $12,000 to $18,000.

VETERANS EXEMPTED

Veterans will not be required to make any down payment on homes costing $7,000 or less, while the initial payment for non-veterans in that price range was slashed from 10 to 5 per cent. Down payments on homes costing $25,000 or more were cut from 50 to 40 per cent for non-veterans and from 40 to 35 per cent for veterans.

Down payments on $15,000 homes were cut from 28 to 24.7 per cent for non-veterans and from 23 to 17 per cent for veterans. Reductions were on a sliding scale up to $18,000 houses. Down payments on them were cut from 36.7 to 29.7 for non-veterans and from 31.7 to 23.6 per cent for veterans.

Officials emphasized that reduction of the down payments would not make it any easier to get bank loans for new homes. They said the mortgage market already is tight and that relaxation of controls could put more prospective home-buyers on the market.

TERMED 'TOO SLIGHT'

The construction industry, which has been demanding removal of all controls, protested that the relaxation was "so slight" it would be "of little help to most prospective home buyers." Industry sources said they would continue their fight in Congress against housing "curbs."

Chairman Burnet R. Maybank (Dem., S. C.) of the Senate Banking Committee said, however, that the changes in Regulation X were "in line with what the committee recommended." He called the government's action a "good thing."

The National Association of Home Builders said "the only encouraging thing" was the suspension of down payments on homes costing up to $7,000.

No change was made in credit terms affecting non-residential building, but the government said it is considering some modification in that field, too. A 50 per cent cash down payment now is required on all non-residential building.

Cattle Sells For $115,435 At LaGrange

By JACK GILCHRIST
Constitution Farm Editor

LA GRANGE, June 9—Hills and Dales farms sold 200 head of purebred Herefords for $115,435 today at their firms Hereford reduction offering.

Georgia cattlemen bought more than breeders from any of the other Southeastern and Western states represented.

J. C. Archer of Sandersville paid out $12,980 for 22 animals. Tuscon Ranch was a close second to Archer paying $11,865 for 15 animals and paying the highest price, $2,000 for a cow Maybellle 44th out of Bear Creek Prince and Mabelle 43.

Georgians purchased more than 100 head of the fine cattle with the rest of the animals going to Mississippi, Alabama, North Carolina and Florida. Some 451 head are being offered in the two-day sale which will end Tuesday afternoon.

Hills and Dales is owned by Fuller E. Callaway Jr., who is offering animals in the sale that carry some of the finest blood lines to be carried anywhere.

Hills and Dale's herd bull is a $52,000 real silver Domino 44th.

The sale is being held in the Hills and Dale's sale barn which is located on the farm.

Fire Brigade Slates Courses

President C. W. Loveless of the Fire Brigade Association of Greater Atlanta has named a three-man committee to conduct monthly educational meetings beginning in September, it was announced Monday.

Members of the group are Russell A. Smith, campus engineer at Georgia Tech; David D. Long Jr., chief industrial engineer at Atlantic Steel Co., and Captain J. F. Seagraves. Atlanta fire marshal.

The association, believed to be the only one of its kind in the nation, was organized in 1951 to assist in the formation of private fire brigades in industrial and mercantile establishments, hotels and hospitals.

Wake Up To More Comfort

Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowdown of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Westinghouse To Build Plant At Vicksburg

Westinghouse Electric Corp. will build a multi-million-dollar plant for the manufacture of industrial and commercial lighting equipment at Vicksburg, Miss., it was announced there Monday night.

Otis Rae of Atlanta, manager of the company's Southeastern district, and Burt S. Burke, manager of the Westinghouse lighting division in Cleveland, Ohio, revealed plans for the modern plant at a dinner for civic and business leaders in Vicksburg. The plant will be located on a 55-acre site adjacent to the Vicksburg Airport.

"The Westinghouse plant at Vicksburg will be the largest plant in the nation devoted exclusively to the manufacture of fluorescent lighting fixtures for commercial and industrial use," Rae declared. "We anticipate it will eventually employ from 500 to 800 people with a payroll of approximately $2,000,000 a year."

Truman Health Need Unit Splits Medicine's Rulers

Doctors Urge Public Disapproval Of Magnuson at Chicago Session

By WILLIAM L. LAURENCE
New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

CHICAGO, June 9—A resolution characterizing President Truman's commission on the health needs of the nation as "a politically inspired agency of government" and urging "public disapproval" of Dr. Paul B. Magnuson, chairman of the commission, for his "unwarranted attacks on the leadership of American medicine" split the House of Delegates of the American Medical Association here today. The House is the ruling body of organized medicine in the United States.

The resolution was introduced at the opening of the annual meeting of the House by Dr. Warren W. Furey, radiologist of this city, after Dr. John W. Cline of San Francisco, outgoing president of the AMA, had assailed the President's commisison in similar terms. The House, sitting as a committee of the whole, voted 85 to 77 to table the resolution.

The action was widely interpreted as an open repudiation by the policy-making body of the point of view of the AMA president, who, in turn, speaks for the leadership of the association. That the leadership agreed with this interpretation became clear at the opening of the afternoon session of the House, when, by a parliamentary maneuver, the action at the morning session was declared "improper," paving the way for the introduction of the resolution for the second time.

VOTE SECOND TIME

This time the House voted to send the resolution to a reference committee on legislation and public relations. It is expected that this committee will recommend some face-saving step, such as to wait until the President's commission has completed its work and made public its findings.

Dr. Magnuson, a noted Chicago orthopedic surgeon and former medical director for the Veterans Administration, when informed by telephone of the proceedings at the delegates' meeting, commented:

"My conscience is clear. They can all go to hell. All I am doing is what I think is right for the doctors and the American people. I am doing a doctor's job, and in my book, the patient comes first."

The action at the morning session to table the resolution came after Dr. Russell Lee, a delegate from Palo Alto, Cal., and a member of the President's commission, had made a plea "not to judge the commission before it has made its report."

NO POLITICAL AIM

"We must guard against tyranny within our own organization," Dr. Lee said. "We must guard the freedom of expression. We should go back to our objective of human welfare." He declared that the commission had no political objective, but simply was trying to do a scientific job.

"The facts now demonstrate conclusively," the resolution stated, "that the establishment of President Truman's commission on the health needs of the nation was politically motivated and was designed to relieve him and his administration of the unpopular issue of compulsory health insurance during a critical election year.

"The facts indicate that Dr. Magnuson, though still declaring his opposition to socialized medicine, has become an unwitting captive of the forces of socialization, and is performing a damaging disservice both to his profession and to the medical warfare of the American people."

Leaders of the AMA have been critical of Dr. Magnuson ever since he accepted appointment to the commission. Dr. Magnuson has reacted by charging that the AMA is excessively preoccupied with politics.

Dr. Paul White of Boston, one of the world's outstanding cardiologists, who has trained physicians in heart disease throughout the world, was voted by the House of Delegates as the winner of the distinguished service award of the AMA, highest honor of medicine. The award carries with it a gold medal and a citation.

Dr. White was with the Massachusetts General Hospital and the Harvard Medical School for many years. He is now retired. Dr. White is not in Chicago, but is expected to attend the meeting before it ends.

Negro Rail Job Rights Are Upheld

By LEWIS WOOD
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, June 9 — Labor unions are barred by the Railway Labor Act from "using their position and power" to destroy "colored workers' jobs in order to bestow them on white workers," the Supreme Court ruled in a 6-to-3 division today.

For the court majority, Justice Black held than an arrangement between the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway threatened Negro train porters "with loss of their jobs because they are not white and for no other reason." A dissent by Justice Minton was joined by Chief Justice Vinson and Justice Reed.

LOWER WAGES

The case, as described by Justice Black, concerned court power to "protect Negro railroad employees from loss of their jobs under compulsion of a bargaining agreement which, to avoid a strike, the railroad made with an exclusively white man's union."

According to the Black opinion, Negro train porters performed the duties of white brakemen at lower wages, but the brotherhood for years used its influence by trying to supplant the Negroes with white men who, unlike the Negroes, could be brotherhood members.

"On March 7, 1946," said Black, "the brotherhood finally forced the Frisco to discharge the colored 'train porters' and fill their jobs with white men who, under the agreement, would do less work but get more pay."

EQUIPMENT ASKED

Justice Black quoted the Federal District Court as finding that the Negro train porters had for a great many years served the Frisco with "loyalty, integrity and efficiency." The trial court found that during World War I, the government required the Negroes be given the same pay as whites, but on the return to private ownership, they were forced to accept wages "far below" the white men.

Under the agreement, Simon L. Howard, a Frisco employee for nearly 40 years, and other Negroes, were notified to turn in their switch keys, lanterns and other brakemen's equipment, "and notices of job vacancies were posted to be bid in by white brakemen only."

First U.S. Superliner Building Speed for Record Atlantic Run

By GEORGE HORNE
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

ABOARD THE S. S. UNITED STATES AT SEA, June 9—America's first superliner is at sea today for her first full power speed run and her official acceptance trials.

The big superliner United States left Newport News early this morning with 1,704 persons aboard, and she is picking up speed this afternoon getting ready for a sustained run that will continue through most of the night.

Scores of technicians and observers are standing by the myriad of dials and other pieces of recording equipment waiting for the 990-foot craft to build up to the point where she is developing the contract 158,000 horsepower.

She left, by coincidence, in company with two great fleets of warships heading to sea, including aircraft carriers and battleships. It was a stirring and impressive procession. Officials of the shipyard, the government and the United States Lines which will operate her are still making a secret of her actual speed potential, but they expect the liner to show herself during the night as the fastest in the world.

TO ANNOUNCE RECORD

Captain Rex L. Hicks, chief of the office of ship construction for the Maritime Administration, the ranking government shipping official on this trial run, will announce tomorrow whether the United States has beaten the best time of any other Atlantic vessel, whether commercial or naval.

He will not disclose the superliner's actual speed nor would he say what speed he expects when the throttle is open wide. This horsepower rating is specified in the contract and whatever the four mighty geared turbines develop beyond that will remain one of the many so-called defense secrets incorporated in her design with naval backing. The speed is being checked by Loran, on a range between Block Island and Cape Hatteras.

Last month the liner had her first tests in a builder's trials on which the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company invited several hundred guests. She completed her standardization trials but the engineers did not make a try for the full power run because two bearings developed a worrying tendency to overheat. Adjustments have now been made and the experts expect no more trouble.

CHIEF INTEREST

The chief interest of those aboard —1,500 are operating and observation personnel and the others are guests—is in the chance the 53,290-ton vessel has of winning Atlantic speed laurels for the United States, for the first time in this century.

The gigantic British liner Queen Mary crossed the Atlantic in 1938 at an average speed of 31.69 knots and steamed one full day at 32.08 knots. During her trials the Queen Mary reportedly made approximately 33 knots. Her 1938 crossing record has never been beaten by a liner, although the aircraft carrier Lake Champlain just after the war brought home a load of returning troops at the average speed of 32.048 knots for well over 4,000 miles.

Officials expect the ship to beat both figures under conditions that could be maintained in suitable weather all the way across the Atlantic. During last month's three-day trials she made unofficially about 33 knots.

The figures on the ship's tonnage, incidentally, are new. Previously she had been called a 52,000-ton vessel but new measurements have increased her cubic dimensions to 53,290 tons. The $72,000,000 liner is by far the greatest shipbuilding task ever undertaken in the United States.

EXCEEDED EXPECTATIONS

She has already shown her remarkable qualities and has exceeded expectations of her designer, William Francis Gibbs, and her builders who contributed much to her design. Mr. Gibbs said today her economy of fuel consumption had proved "better than we hoped for." In safety, involving subdivision against damage as a war transport, and in fireproofing, she is without a competitor on any sea, officials say.

The United States is to be delivered June 20, and will make her delivery appearance in New York on the 23rd. Her maiden voyage is scheduled for July 3. She will carry 2,000 passengers, and if called upon in emergency for the quick conversion for which she was specially designed as a potential transport, would take a full division of troops with equipment.

India, Japs Sign Peace, Renew Ties

TOKYO, Tuesday, June 10 (AP)—A peace treaty renewing the ancient ties between India and Japan was concluded here Monday.

The document ended officially the World War II hostilities between the two nations and leaves Soviet Russia as the only major belligerent still legally at war with Japan.

The treaty, signed by Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki and Indian Ambassador K. K. Chettur, waives reparations claims against Japan and provides that each will grant the other rights and privileges accorded all other nations. It returns Japanese property in India.

India did not sign the treaty approved in San Francisco last September by 48 nations. She was opposed to the provision that U. S. troops remain in Japan as a mutual security force.

From Hong Kong came a report that Russia would repatriate 182,000 Japanese war prisoners if Japan would conclude a separate peace treaty with the Soviet Union. The Foreign Office said it was "just more Soviet propaganda."

SQUAD CAR FLIGHT

10 Traffic Charges Cost $193

A 32-year-old Albany man paid $193 in fines on 10 traffic charges and was bound over on drunk driving and auto larceny counts Monday after he broke away from arresting officers, grabbed their patrol car and wrecked it a block away.

"I just don't know what in the world possessed me," Rufus C. Hodges, a railroad commercial agent, told Judge Luke Arnold as he and police officers recounted an escapade which Hodges said began with a disagreement and ensuing "tussle" with a fellow conventionite.

EASED OUT

Hodges and George Daniel Green of Jacksonville, Fla., identified as a Duvall County, Fla., deputy sheriff were removed from a downtown hotel via the freight elevator because they were "making so much commotion," according to Ptl. C. Chitwood and F. M. Bearden.

Hodges grabbed the police car in front of the hotel, sped around a corner of West Peachtree Street at 40 miles per hour and hit a utility pole before the officers could stop him, they reported. Hodges was found lying beside the patrol car.

DAMAGE HELD $1,000

He was fined for drunk on the street, driving on the wrong side of the road, improper turn—accident, destroying city property, assault, resisting arrest, drunk and disorderly, fighting, cursing, and speeding. Charges against him of driving without license were dismissed by Judge Arnold.

Green, who was jailed on drunk and disorderly charges paid an $18 collateral bond and did not appear in court. Damage to the police car was estimated at $1,000.

A 37-year-old Atlanta Negro, free under $200 bond on charges of drunk operating in an April 12 case pending in Fulton Criminal Court, Monday was fined $53 on charges of being drunk on the street in connection with an automobile accident at 1470 N. Boulevard, N. E., police records showed.

A charge of drunk operating growing out of the accident was dismissed by Associate Traffic Judge J. E. Webb.

Ptl. T. M. Stribling and I. W. Belcher said the man, listed as Johnnie M. Edwards of 750 Canterbury Rd., S. W., suffered severe face lacerations in the accident. The officers told the court they found Edwards pinned under the steering wheel of the car which had smashed into a utility pole.

5 OTHERS HURT

Five other persons were injured in traffic accidents in the area.

In another smashup, a 48-year-old woman was treated at Grady for chest and leg injuries and a face laceration after the auto she was driving collided with a tree at East Rock Springs Rd. and Morningside Dr., N. E., police reports stated.

Mrs. Mary Jeanette Willcoxon, 48, of 3391 Habersham Rd., N. W., was listed in "good" condition at Emory Hospital where she was transferred from Grady. She was booked on a charge of speeding-accident, the officers said.

Others injured in auto accidents were: Billy Richard Kinney, 2, of 1165 Oakdale Ave., S. W., multiple abrasions; Mrs. Janice Hall Houston of 605 Cochran Rd., S. E., bruises; Mrs. Hettie Mae Jones of 320 Madison Ave., S. E., a shoulder injury, and Leonard Cram, 52, of a Luckie Street address, who was listed in "fair" condition at Grady after being struck by an auto at Chester Ave. and Memorial Dr., S. E., attendants said.

Atlanta Students Get $55,110 in Scholarships

A total of $55,110 in scholarships has been awarded to white students of the Atlanta public schools, Miss Ira Jarrell, superintendent, told committees of the Board of Education Monday night.

She predicted that the figure will reach $100,000 when a complete list of scholarships is compiled. Miss Jarrell told the board members that most of the scholarships are awarded on the basis of competitive examinations by universities, colleges and other organizations.

The committee, which met to discuss plans for the regular meeting of the Atlanta Board of Education Tuesday, was told that architects are working on the 31 projects of the city's $7,010,000 school construction program.

Specifications and working drawings are expected to be completed within 30 days. Actual construction work is scheduled to begin in October.

In other action the committee approved a proposal calling for the asphalt paving of 12,000 sq. ft. on the Henry Grady High School campus in front of the new gymnasium.

The project, which will cost approximately $3,000, is designed to eliminate "knee-deep mud and water" near the gym which is used as an auditorium for numerous school and community functions.

Chairman J. Austin Dilbeck presided at Monday night's committee meeting.

Korea Reds Fail In 3d Hill Push

SEOUL, Korea, Tuesday, June 10—(AP)—Frustrated Chinese Reds resumed their attack on a Western Korean hill position today. Allied infantrymen hurled them back for the third straight day.

Between 160 and 180 Chinese powered the latest predawn attack. They stormed up the slopes behind a barrage of artillery, mortar, and self-propelled guns or tank fire. Two hours later they faded back into the darkness. U.N. troops still had a firm hold of the crest they wrested from the Communists Saturday.

New Altitude Record Set At 15 Miles

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics reported today that a Navy test pilot has flown approximately 15 miles above the earth to set a new world altitude record for human beings.

Walter T. Bonney, an NACA official, said the feat was performed by pilot Bill Bridgeman flying a Douglas-built Navy Skyrocket last Aug. 15.

Bonney said NACA radar-photo equipment carried by the plane showed it reached a height of "better than 79,000 feet." He said the Navy authorized publication of NACA's estimate.

The former official mark of 72,394 feet was established by Orvil Anderson and Albert Stevens in a balloon near Rapid City, S.D., in November, 1935.

Bonney reported the new record in an article in the Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corporation magazine, Pegasus.

National Forest Supervisors Here For Conferences

A dozen national forest supervisors from 11 Southern states sat down here Monday for a week of conferences on topics from timber sales to fire prevention.

Georgia's Chattahoochee National Forest, which realized net profit of $142,457 in fiscal 1951, is represented by Clarence K. Spalding with headquarters at Gainesville.

That figure, representing a per-acre profit of 21.6 cents, is significant for Georgia's only U. S. forest. It marks the first year out of the red, Spalding pointed out.

Of Chattahoochee's billion board feet of salable timber, the average annual cut for a five-year period was 36,000,000 feet.

Your Mind's MIRROR

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

May generosity be a neurotic symptom?

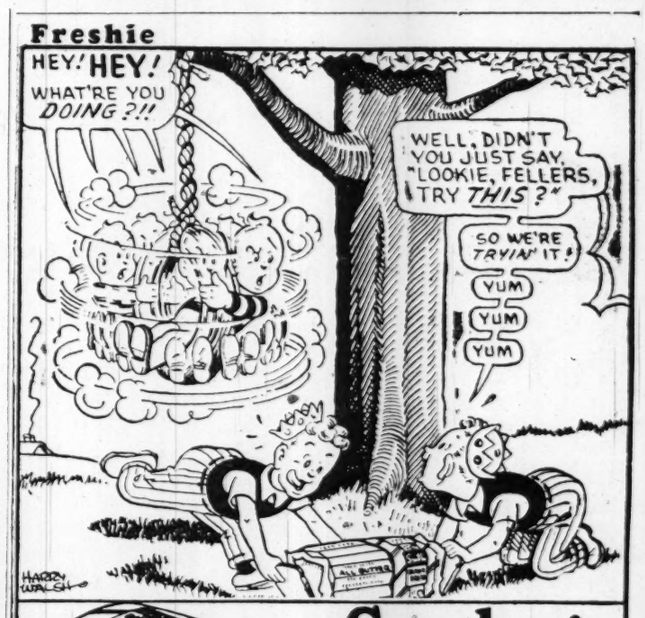

Answer: Yes, writes Dr. Hilde Lewinsky in the International Journal of Psychoanalysis. There are people who grow up with an exaggerated craving for love (based on early deprivation of it) and yet realize that they cannot force or punish others into giving it to them. They persuade themselves that generosity will act as a sort of "homeopathic magic" in inducing others to give them the love they crave. But unhappily this method seldom is effective for the reason that the generosity is not based on recognition of its beneficiary's needs or wishes and is apt to be refused or resented as the "bribe" that it is.

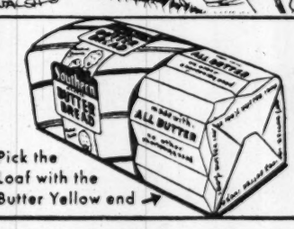

Is learning a second language useful?

Answer: Very. In addition to the business and social opportunities it offers, knowing another language than your own is a most valuable aid to thinking clearly. It is all too easy to use words you were brought up on without bothering to think of their exact meaning, but having to express the same ideas in a foreign language more or less compels you to do this. Finding an equivalent of "home" in French, which has no single corresponding word, is a good illustration. Forty-five years out of college, I still feel that "majoring" in Greek and Latin was the best part of my education from the standpoint of clear thinking.

TV-RADIO DIAL

Television Highlights

8:30 P. M.—WSB-TV—Televiewers will see for the first time an important session of the American Medical Association during its 101st annual meeting.

9 P. M.—WLTV—Sky Theater presents "To Be or Not to Be" with Jack Benny and Carole Lombard.

Medical Association To Meet on Teevee

For the first time, the television public will be able to witness two important sessions of the 101st annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

The half-hour programs, to be seen on WSB-TV, will go on the air Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. and Wednesday at 9 p. m.

The doors of the world's largest and most important medical meeting, open to the public for the first time, will afford an opportunity for doctors who cannot attend the meeting and for ordinary laymen, also vitally interested in medical progress, to witness these sessions first hand.

Teen-agers taking part in the model airplane meet here will be guests on Helen Parris' Memo for My Lady at 4 p. m. on WAGA-TV. Three high school students—two girls and a boy—will discuss teenage problems as a special feature, also.

Charm Circle at 10 a. m.—WAGA-TV—will feature a discussion on vacation clothes with special emphasis on color and styles for individual figures. Alice Bell is host on this show.

A Rhyme a Day

"Picnic days are just ahead and you will need those accessories that add so much to outdoor living."—Advt.

The picnic season's just ahead . . . when we can go somewhere and spread . . . our lunch beneath the friendly trees . . . and feed the ants and bumblebees . . . for mama says the children like . . . to get outdoors where they can hike . . . the woodland trails and wade the streams . . . and listening to her, it seems . . . it might be pleasant, after all . . . to get the old bus out and haul . . . the family to some retreat . . . where we can frolic, rest and eat.

And yet we find, when we convene . . . upon this sweet, pastoral scene . . . there's little time for us to rest . . . the children find a hornet's nest . . . or in their playfulness excite . . . some other things that sting or bite . . . or almost drown since they forget . . . that water can be awful wet.

These picnics may be fun for some . . . but, as for me, I have become . . . convinced that any place I go . . . I'll be plagued as Pharaoh . . . with locusts, famine, frogs and flies . . . or floods descending from the skies.

The picnic season's just ahead . . . when all the insects will be fed . . . but I shall do my best to see . . . they do not have their lunch on me.

Corruption Probe

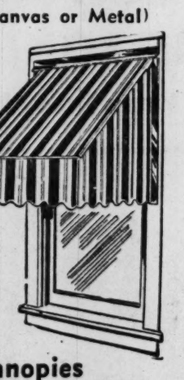

SINGAPORE—(AP)—The Singapore government has appointed a civilian investigating group to probe alleged corruption in government departments and the law enforcement agencies. This is apparently the first step in the government's bid to wipe out corruption, which the commissioner of police recently admitted existed in all government departments and the police and customs forces.

GEA Opposes Tax Allocations

The Georgia Education Association made news when it launched a campaign against earmarking of gasoline taxes for highway purposes—or any other purposes. The GEA long has opposed the idea of allocation of taxes, feeling that all departments of state government should be fed from the same spoon by the Legislature. However, the impression was getting out that the school people were going to forget this idea and combine with the road people in a joint campaign to pass constitutional amendments in November.

County commissioners are campaigning to pass the pending constitutional amendment to earmark gasoline taxes for roads. Some school people want the Legislature to meet in special session and approve a constitutional amendment guaranteeing an annual $10,000,000 appropriation for school buildings.

A former GEA president told the county commissioners in state convention that the problems of the school and road people, who in the past have vied for state funds, were the same. He appealed to the road people to "join with us" in passing the school amendment. While he didn't say so the commissioners and newsmen got the definite impression that a coalition of road and school people was proposed. The commissioners passed a resolution urging a special session of the Legislature to approve a school building amendment.

M. L. St. John

If this school leader intended any such coalition, he was not speaking for the Georgia Education Association — because the GEA board of directors has just launched a "campaign of information" to show that earmarking of tax funds for any purpose is bad.

The GEA board of directors says it opposes "allocations." "Allocations," which were abandoned when the new constitution was adopted in 1945, provided that all income from a specific tax would go exclusively to a department of state government to be used for a specific purpose.

For example, one cent of gas tax would go for school equalization, one cent of cigarette tax would go for pensions for widows of Confederate soldiers, tax from beer and wine would go for purchase of free textbooks, etc.

Yugoslavia Controls On Wheat Are Ended

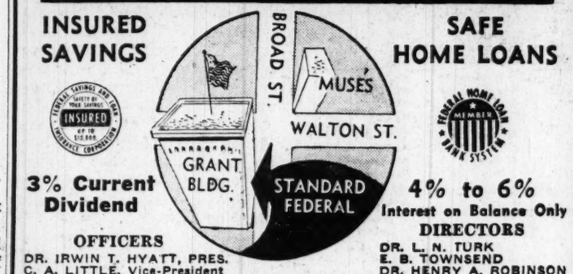

BELGRADE, Ygoslavia, June 9. (AP)—Yugoslavia has abolished its program compelling peasants to sell wheat to the government at low prices—the last of post-war controls over basic foodstuffs.

Abolition of the program will mean the sale of wheat on the free market again, probably with a price increase.
